Trade Boards Would Abolish Provincial Legislative Field

Greater Centralized Control in Canada Urged Before Rowell Commission

Say Dual Taxes Hitting Industry

Drastic moves for centralization of government in Canada, to the extent of holding a plebiscite on the question of abolishing the provincial legislature replacing it with a Legislative Council appointed by the Dominion, were proposed to the Rowell commission today by Boards of Trade representing Vancouver, Nanaimo, eastern British Columbia towns, the Fraser Valley and lower mainland.

H. R. MacMillan submitted the brief on behalf of these bodies. Besides the plebiscite proposal it contained the following specific recommendations:

1. All further borrowings by the provinces and municipalities should be controlled by the Dominion.

2. Work of provinical departments which duplicates federal services should be centralized under the Dominion. (Departments of Mines, Public Works, Pensions and Health, Agriculture and Trade and Commerce were mentioned specifically).

3. The Dominion should collect the income tax for both governments.

4. Exemptions from income tax should be allowed by each government of the amount paid to the other. The Dominion should exempt dividends paid by Canadian companies which have already paid tax on the income from which the dividends come.

5. The Dominion Government should administer the whole question of unemployment relief and "the present wasteful method of administering unemployment should be stopped." Possibilities of unemployment insurance should be studied.

6. Special commissions should be named, both by the Dominion and the province to investigate the "rising costs of civil service."

7. Duplication in the transcontinental railways should be eliminated, such as by the experiment with pool trains in the east.

8. The Dominion should take over the policing of provinces, cities and municipalities, with local officers being absorbed into a Dominion force.

Adding to these, the trade boards suggested for the provincial government that the number of government agencies be reduced, if not entirely abolished; that provincial electoral boundaries be made the same as the Dominion, with a reduction in House seats to 16, and that the number of school boards be cut down and

Ottawa Studies Powell Case

Parole Considered on Merits Following Release of Unwin in Alberta

OTTAWA (CP) — The case of G. F. Powell, English social credit adviser to the Alberta Government now serving a six-month term in jail for publishing defamatory libel, will be considered on its merits for parole, Rt. Hon. Ernest LaPointe, Minister of Justice, told the House of Commons this afternoon.

J. H. Unwin, Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature for Edson, sentenced at the same time as Powell to three months for complicity in the same charge, was released Monday evening after serving about half his term.

DESIRED BY MANY

In the House today Social Credit Leader Blackmore said sympathizers with Mr. Unwin rejoiced at his liberation and urged the government consider the case of "his fellow sufferer." Mr. Powell, the Social Credit leader said, had enjoyed "an unblemished record" before coming to Canada from Britain, and "his freedom is desired by millions here and overseas."

Observing that Powell's sentence was for six months as compared with three months for Unwin, Mr. Lapointe said all representations respecting the former were being considered.

Powell and Unwin were convicted of publishing defamatory libel, knowing it to be false, in connection with a political pamphlet.

The government's communique last night announcing Unwin's release, as is the practice in connection with remission of sentences, gave no official explanation for his being freed.

Francoists Claim Gains From Loyalists 35 Miles From Mediterranean

HENDAYE, France, at the Spanish Frontier (AP) — The Spanish insurgents today reported they had driven government troops from five barricaded trench lines at Valdealgorfo, in fierce hand-to-hand conflict.

Resuming their drive toward Catalonia and the Mediterranean coast, the insurgents launched a smashing attack in the sector 10 miles southeast of Alcaniz and about 35 miles from the sea.

Government troops suffered 2,000 casualties in a futile effort to stop the offensive, said insurgent dispatches which reported capture of 300 machine guns.

The attack was made by insurgent legionnaires after artillery and airplane bombardment of the new defence lines hastily constructed by the government in an attempt to halt the insurgent drive coastward.

Ruins in Barcelona After Air Raids

Nineteen air raids on Catalonia's chief city in approximately 48 hours last week by Spanish insurgent bombing planes, many of them German and Italian, killed at least 834 and wounded more than 1,275. Large sections of the beautiful city were reduced to wreckage. The above radiophoto, the first to reach this continent, shows rescuers as they worked, sifting debris for possible survivors or mangled corpses of men, women and children. Hundreds were still in the wreckage.

O. A. Kennedy Wins Edmonton Contest; No Change in Party Standing

EDMONTON—Orvis A. Kennedy, Social Credit, will represent East Edmonton in the House of Commons. The unofficial count of the voting in Monday's by-election was reported today as: Kennedy 9,920, R. C. Marshall, Liberal, 7,935; Walter Cleveley, Conservative, 2,480.

The vote yesterday—71 per cent of the listed total—was approximately 4,000 greater than the 16,212 who voted in the constituency in the 1935 general election, when Dr. W. S. Hall, Social Credit, was elected in a six-cornered fight. It was the death of Dr. Hall, who obtained 5,721 votes in 1935, that necessitated the by-election.

Man and Woman Share Ticket on Non-starter, Worth $2,300

VANCOUVER (CP)—Miss L. H. Watson and A. J. Jack shared two Irish Hospital Sweepstakes tickets, and today they received confirmation by cable from Ireland that one of the tickets had brought them $2,300.

The ticket, under the nom de plum "You O Me," was MC26122, on Second Act, a non-starter in the Grand National to be run at Aintree, England, next Friday.

Miss Watson and Mr. Jack are employees of the British Columbia Telephone Company. They have been buying tickets together for several years.

"It'll buy coffee for some time," Jack said today, when asked what he intended to do with his winnings.

TORONTONIAN'S LUCK

TORONTO (CP)—Miss Gwendoline Hughes, clerk in a Toronto automobile firm, has a ticket on Blue Prince in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes on the Grand National Steeplechase. The horse is one of the favorites for next Friday's race.

Other Torontonians who were lucky in the draw came to light today. Thomas Lockey, school caretaker, was offered $4,500 by a New York agency for a half interest in a ticket on Under Bid. Lockey is still undecided.

Two on Trial On Stock Charges

VANCOUVER (CP)—R. W. McKitrick, secretary, and O. B. Bush, managing director of National Silver Mines Ltd., now in liquidation, today pleaded not guilty to charges of conspiracy to defraud when they appeared in county court before Judge J. C. McIntosh.

The charges were laid after alleged over-issues of stock in the company through a holding company controlled by Bush.

J. Coady, crown prosecutor, testified that when National Silver Mines Ltd. went into liquidation in 1936 it was found there had been an over-issue of more than 1,000,000 shares.

Cabinet Of Britain Drafts Declaration

Chamberlain Seeking to Reassure France, Czechoslovakia and Germany

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—The cabinet this morning began a two-day consideration of the foreign policy statement which Prime Minister Chamberlain is to make in the House of Commons Thursday.

For days Mr. Chamberlain has been in close contact with the French government.

The Dominions have been kept fully informed. Canada, it is stated here, has not been asked to express an opinion with regard to guarantees to Czechoslovakia and has not expressed any opinion. Under the accepted procedure the Dominions cannot be committed to any active obligations without their definite assent.

It is not considered likely, however, the Prime Minister will give a direct pledge to Czechoslovakia.

The Associated Press said there was a feeling among political commentators the Prime Minister was hoping to reassure Germany, Czechoslovakia (with its fear of German incursion) and France (ally of the Czechs) all at the same time, with the same policy and with offence to none.

RALLY SEEN

Newspapers which recently have avoided persistent reports of a split within the cabinet over foreign policy today tacitly admitted some differences of opinion existed during the last few days.

"There were many rumors on this subject last week," The Times, independent, said, "but during the week-end there was a general rally to support the Prime Minister, and members of Parliament who had visited their constituencies reported there was general agreement to trust Mr. Chamberlain's judgment and applaud him for his courage in refusing to be stampeded into a hurried statement on British policy."

Battle at Grand Canal Rages While Gen. Yu, Chinese Commander in North, Claims Japanese Army Is Nearer Defeat Now Than at Any Previous Period of War

SHANGHAI (CP-Havas) — Japanese authorities today ordered the seizure of the Chinese maritime customs house on the International Settlement Bund. The building is British property, but the British consulate had not yet intervened.

GRAND CANAL BATTLE

SHANGHAI (AP) — Fighting raged today across a bloody Grand Canal, as Chinese and Japanese, their lines but 50 yards apart in some places, battled for possession of Suchew, vital junction point of the Lunghai and Tientsin-Pukow railways.

Gunfire was audible in Suchow, 22 miles from the battlefield, as Japanese ranged their heavy artillery along the north bank of the canal and opened bombardment of the Chinese lines.

The barrage was believed to be preliminary to an assault on the Chinese positions reaching from the swamps of Lake Weishan to Likuoyih, on the north-south Tientsin-Pukow line, where the bitterest fighting was taking place.

President Says Other Businesses Not to Be Treated As Was Oil

MEXICO CITY (AP) — President Lazaro Cardenas assured Mexican industry today expropriation of foreign oil companies was an "exception" and no similar measure was in prospect against other business.

As the treasury department took the first steps toward fixing the sum to be paid the 17 United States and British oil companies for loss of their $400,000,000 properties, the president said to industry in general that:

"No other measures which might affect the confidence of the country will be taken against other business, properties, bank deposits, values and other investments, which the government is ready to protect in accordance with the law."

BRAZIL AGAIN REBUFFS NAZIS

German Note Protesting Ban Flatly Rejected; Strong Language Scored

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Efforts of the German government to regain free Nazi cultural activity for Germans in Brazil ran into a blind alley today.

It was ascertained at the Foreign Office, that Foreign Minister Oswald Aranha has rejected flatly the latest series of representations against Brazil's ban on Nazi activities.

Carl Ritter, the German ambassador, acted for his government. It was said reliably that the Foreign Minister considered a note submitted by Ritter to be couched in such strong language that he rejected it without further consideration.

Ritter has been conferring with high Brazilian officials for several days. He talked Monday with Francisco Campos, Minister of Justice and of the Interior, but nothing resulted to indicate any change in the situation.

Crew Waited For Vessel To Crash

But Just in Nick of Time Queen Adelaide Got Into Shelter of Alberni Canal

"I have been in some pretty tough spots, but that was the first time I thought it was the last time I would ever sail," said Capt. Charles Radford, master of Ss. Queen Adelaide, as he told today of the hurricane which nearly piled his fine new ship up on the rocks off the west coast of Vancouver Island last week. His ship is now berthed at Ogden Point.

Because the rain squalls cleared, permitting the officers on the ship's bridge to see the lighthouse and the wind shifted slightly, the Queen Adelaide was miraculously able to get into the shelter of the Alberni Canal, as the seas pounded her.

The storm blew up last Tuesday as the Queen Adelaide was nearing Cape Flattery, from San Francisco. Capt. Radford and his officers, although heading for Fort Alberni, decided the best place for them and their ship was in the shelter of the Straits.

HURRICANE FORCE

The force of the wind, about 65 miles, kept them outside, however. The ship's nose was put toward the entrance, but the gale blew her in the direction of the Vancouver Island shoreline.

So the captain ordered the ship out to sea again, fearing the vessel would go ashore, as she was going sideways at the rate of four miles an hour.

Earthquake In Sea Off Prince Rupert

Distinct Shocks Shake Houses and Rattle Dishes; Recorded in Victoria City

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—Prince Rupert residents reported they had felt a "distinct earthquake shock of several seconds' duration" at about 7.30 this morning.

They said houses were shaken and furniture rattled. No serious damage was reported.

The Victoria Meteorological Observatory reported a pronounced earthquake began registering on its seismograph at 7.24 this morning.

The epicentre was estimated as 550 miles northwest of Victoria. Officials said this would put the temblor just off Prince Rupert and that it was severe enough to be felt in the Queen Charlotte Islands and Alaska.

RECORDED IN CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Prof. Perry Byerly, University of California seismologist, said his instruments recorded an earthquake of moderate size today, starting at 7.26 a.m.

He said it was recorded for an hour and 20 minutes, and probably centred 1,200 miles northwest, or near the Queen Charlotte Islands, off British Columbia.

LOUISIANA RECORD

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Rev. Father O. L. Bell, seismologist at Loyola University, reported today earthquake recordings starting about 7.40 a.m. P.S.T. He said the stronger waves appeared to be east-west, indicating the centre probably a couple of thousands miles from the California coast.

Freud Ill After Nazi Padlocking

Austrian Psychoanalyst in Weak Condition After Secret Police Raid

VIENNA (AP) — Sigmund Freud, 82-year-old "father of psychoanalysts," was seriously ill today, close friends said, after a visit of secret Nazi police to his home Monday night.

The informants said the police took the Jewish scientist's passports and closed the doors of his home. Offices of the company which has published Freud's books also were closed.

Freud was ill when Adolf Hitler absorbed Austria into the German realm last week, and for several days was not told of the drastic changes affecting his country and his race.

Nazi conquerors began today a propaganda drive intended to win over the Austrian population at the April 10 plebiscite.

ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

ONTARIO POWER EXPORT BARRED

U.S. Refuses to Agree to Hepburn's Water Diversion Proposals

OTTAWA (CP)—Plans of Premier Hepburn of Ontario to export surplus power to consumers in New York State and to divert headwaters of the Albany River into Lake Superior faced fresh difficulties today with the United States refusing its approval of either project, except as part of a general agreement on the whole Great Lakes-St. Lawrence power and seaways development.

Communications from Washington were tabled in the House of Commons Monday night by Prime Minister King, conveying the United States rejection of the water diversion scheme as a separate project and confirming the belief expressed by the Prime Minister when he was first asked some time ago by the Ontario premier to seek United States agreement to his plans.

Although agreeing to the diversion project and recommending it to United States authorities, the federal government took the stand it would be useless to expect a separate agreement while refusing to negotiate with the United States on the larger international scheme invisioned in the 1932 St. Lawrence Waterways agreement, which was rejected by the U.S. Senate, and is opposed by the Hepburn government.

PRESIDENTIAL VETO

A memo accompanying the United States reply to the diversion proposal intimated President Roosevelt would exercise his authority to prevent importation of electric power from Canada, unless it also formed part of a general agreement on use and development of resources contained within the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence basin.

At the same time the United States communications set forth the benefits to be derived by both countries from a permanent agreement on the whole Great Lakes-St. Lawrence development, and the government expressed itself "ready and eager" to proceed at once with negotiations for such an agreement.

At present the Canadian Parliament has before it a government measure designed to transfer from the government to Parliament the sole authority to issue electricity export licenses. When that measure becomes law it will be necessary to have a private bill passed in order to grant a power export license.

The Ontario government has already signified its intention to seek such a license once this new machinery become operative. Last November Mr. Hepburn applied for a license to export 120,000 horsepower of surplus electricity to New York State, but was refused pending enactment of this legislation.

Once outside, although she was heading southwest, she was actually going southeastward towards the shore. The engines were doing 11 knots, but the ship was doing only about six.

"The ship was rolling violently," Capt. Radford said. "She was in ballast and she just wouldn't come into the wind. The seas were breaking over our forward decks. It was the first time she took a sea in ballast. One of the seas came right into the wheelhouse and drenched us. We had to hang on."

WANTED SHIPS NEAR

Capt. Radford said he sent out an SOS call, saying the ship was unmanageable, in order to give the crew every chance of escape, should the ship pile up. The crew was called about midnight and told to dress and be ready for any emergency, although no lifebelts were donned. There was nothing the matter with the ship's steering gear, the skipper said. Wireless reports stated it had become disabled.

"I wanted to know rescue ships would be in the neighborhood if we crashed, and for a time I didn't see how we could hely going on the rocks. We could see the seas breaking over them and they looked prety wicked. I really thought it was all up."

Capt. Radford said he was baffled by wireless reports he received that afternoon. One of them, telling of the hurricane, said "all vessels are warned to exercise extreme caution." He had never before received such a message, he said. The barometer that afternoon was 28.80, the lowest Capt. Radford had seen on the Queen Adalaide, although not the lowest he experienced in his 26 years at sea.

The skipper this morning express gratitude to all vessels that volunteered aid and started for the scene—the Salvage King of Victoria and the cutter Redwing from Port Townsend, among them.

Like all seamen, Capt. Radford said very little about the part he played in saving the ship from destruction, but his crew told of his magnificent seamanship, as he stood on the bridge, kept his ship away from the rocks and finally piloted her into the canal, the entrance to which was less than a mile wide. He had never before been in West Coast waters.

JAPAN RETURNS NO LAND TO CHINA, SAYS PREMIER

garrisons annihilated, and their only food supply in some cases reaching them by airplane. Many Japanese troops are in a precarious position, Gen. Yu said.

Among highlights of the situation of the Japanese, as pictured by Gen. Yu, were these:

An army of 40,000 Japanese in southern Shansi province has been isolated from its supply bases.

Red guerillas scored five successes in recent days in attacks along the Peiping-Hankow railway, wiping out small station garrisons.

Chinese tactics forced the Japanese to abandon 35 miles of the Peiping-Hankow railway north of the Yellow River.

COLUMNS WIPED OUT

Three transport columns winding their way through tortuous mountain trails to reach the Japanese beleaguered in southern Shansi province were annihilated by Chinese snipers, and for six days the Japanese command resorted to airplanes to feed the isolated army.

Thirty thousand Red Chinese soldiers lay across the communication lines of this army eastward from the Peiping-Hankow railroad, he said, while troops of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek cut another railway in Shansi, leaving the Japanese completely isolated.

Meanwhile, Gen. Chiang's armies crossed the Yellow River northward in four places, according to Gen. Yu's reports.

Three victories in two days in southern Shansi below Taiyuan resulted in 1,700 Japanese dead, while the Chinese lost but 200, Gen. Yu said.

SOCIAL CREDITER SENT TO COMMONS

Social Credit M.P.P. for Edson, who had been serving a three-month jail term for publishing defamatory libel, was flashed through from Ottawa as the polls in East Edmonton closed yesterday evening.

An hour later the unofficial returns indicated Mr. Kennedy had retained the seat for the Social Credit forces, and his election was conceded at the committee rooms of Mr. Marshall and Mr. Clevelly.

Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Unwin took leading roles in the celebration and parade through downtown Edmonton, and the hundreds who marched and rode in trucks and cars disrupted the normal flow of traffic. Mr. Unwin stood on the running board of a motorcar.

Before the parade Mr. Unwin was cheered as he arrived at Social Credit headquarters.

"I'm out of jail and I say hurray," said Mr. Unwin in a short address to the crowd. "It is the will of the people that has released me," he said.

More universal application of income tax so that every citizen contributes something to the welfare of Canada was suggested, with the view that "a greater interest would be aroused in public affairs, bringing with it a demand for economy."

Presenting what it claimed was "striking evidence that British Columbia is overtaxed and overgoverned," the brief said: "The province of British Columbia, in the calendar year 1937, contributed to the Dominion Government in income taxes alone approximately $8,000,000, a substantial sum to be borne by a total population of only 750,000 people, particularly when many of them contribute directly nothing towards this sum. Superimposed on this is the expense to the people of this province of its provincial government of approximately $30,000,000, to say nothing of the municipal taxes which, in addition, represents a requirement from the people of Vancouver of over $15,000,000."

Forcing of social services on municipalities was leading to the confiscation of homes and the throwing on relief of many of the best citizens.

The brief quoted the Kidd committee's report extensively in regard to proposed economies in the provincial government, condemning patronage.

The brief suggested that the following duties should be unified under federal departments: Agriculture, companies act, insurance, tax collections and administrations, statistics and publications, security frauds prevention acts, research, health, relief to unemployed, labor regulations, old age pensions, colonization and immigration, trade and commerce.

Education should be solely under the province, but mining and tourism could be best handled jointly by the Dominion and province.

LUMBER BUSINESS

Mr. MacMillan, in his presentation, demonstrated the value of the United Kingdom market to the primary industries of the province, and of its dependence on world markets generally.

Of the lumber production in the coastal region 14 per cent was used in B.C., 19 per cent was sold in Canada outside B.C. and 67 per cent sold outside Canada. Of the outside trade the Empire countries took 80 per cent and foreign countries 20 per cent. In paper production 84 per cent was sold to foreign markets, 7 per cent to the Empire and 9 per cent in Canada; in pulp 5 per cent was used in B.C. and 95 per cent sold outside Canada; in doors 94 per cent went to the U.K. and 6 per cent sold in Canada; in fish products 2 per cent in B.C., 33 per cent elsewhere in Canada, 44 per cent in Empire markets and 21 per cent in foreign markets; in base metals all copper sold outside of Canada and 89 per cent of lead and zinc.

"It is our belief," said Mr. MacMillan, "that we have too many spending authorities in both the Dominion and the provincial, and too many departments spending money that have no responsibility in the raising of money from the public. Due to economic conditions, great pressure is constantly being brought to bear upon provinces, cities and municipalities for the spending of money.

"We feel, however, that little, if any, attempt has been made to continue to experiment with new forms of legislation which inevitably means that more money has to be found to permit the experiments to be made. The province of British Columbia is not behind in this regard, and if we are to continue to maintain and develop our trading position in world affairs, continued demands upon business must be reduced.

"We have gone very far in this province in social legislation. We have a reputation for leading all Canada in this respect, and we believe that the time has arrived when the rank and file of the public are actually in danger of suffering economically because the competitive abilities of our major British Columbia industries are impaired. We believe that social legislation should be a matter for the Dominion Government."

ASKED FOR DETAILS

Mr. MacMillan was pressed by Prof. R. A. MacKay to detail the duplication in services which he said existed. Mr. MacMillan replied that the view was a general one among the boards of trade but it would take experts on the internal workings of departments to explain in detail.

Chairman Newton W. Rowell asked Mr. MacMillan if he believed that taxation was retarding business development. He replied that personally he felt so and thought other business men generally held that view. Taxation hindered the investment of capital in permanent enterprises as it cut down the profit ratio.

Senator J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., government counsel, pressed Mr. MacMillan to define what he meant by the "wasteful" method of administering unemployment relief. Mr. MacMillan said he had been told about the system but could not argue the details.

Chairman Rowell, thanking Mr. MacMillan for the brief, commented that it contained "a number of matters which appear impractical, but we will consider it carefully."

W. A. Curran, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of eastern British Columbia, supplemented the main brief with a presentation stressing the need for cutting government costs and balancing government budgets.

At one point, he said: "We believe that every citizen who gives real thought to the problem of expense of government in Canada must finally be forced to the conclusion that the cost of maintaining at least some of our provincial governments is not justified from any point of view.

"We incline to the belief that the Legislative Assembly of this province, and other provinces, could, with advantage, be dispensed with. We therefore urge the commission to recommend to the Governor-General-in-Council that steps be taken to amend the British North America Act so that any province may dispense with its Legislative Assembly if its citizens by a suitable majority shall have expressed their opinion in favor of such a course . . ."

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

MUSIC SPEAKS OUT OF AGES

Interesting Study Given By Prof. Dilworth at Extension Lecture

The largest audience to attend a University Extension Association lecture this season enthusiastically received Professor Ira Dilworth of the University of British Columbia in the role of speaker at the Junior High School last night.

Speaking on "Tradition and Change," a study of poetry in its relation to music in the changing world, Prof. Dilworth's delicate and sensitive treatment of his subject intrigued his audience to a point of breathlessness throughout.

By the motif of verse and music, composers seemed "to speak out of the spirit of an age," Prof. Dilworth told his audience. "One minute of Bach and I would be in the eighteenth century, because Bach's music speaks out of that age. The speaker illustrated his point by playing on the gramophone one of the famous composer's typical stately minuet compositions. While the artistic efforts of the age were characterized by such delicacy of treatment, yet the eighteenth century "was one of most alive in all history in the human sense," Prof. Dilworth declared.

In referring to the layman's conception of and response to classical music, the speaker said: "We have developed so little we find it difficult to carry patterns and notes; we become lost in a welter of unrelated sounds."

POETIC BASIS

The early nineteenth century saw poetry take a vital shape as the basis for musical compositions. Schubert wrote many of his most famous movements on the inspiration of poetry. An example of the relationship in probably its most livid form was seen in the liede. The tone or symphonic poem was another striking example of such affinity. The latter example was music with a literary "background." While Deems Taylor seemed to have a certain dubiety of the exactability of music in description, in the opinion of Prof. Dilworth, to the sensitive ear and imagination, the resultant objective of such an effort was almost instantaneous. He cited the remarkable tone poems of Straus as an illustration.

Present-day composers were turning out excellent examples of the symphonic study, and as in the eighteenth century, they were also reflecting the character of the modern age. The complexity of modern life was felt in the works of contemporary composers to a great extent. The chaos of post-war Europe was exemplified in the poetry of T. S. Elliott, indecision and heterogeneity to a marked degree. Prof. Dilworth drew attention to the conglomeration of objectified images which tended to lose the thread of the story but were a vital essential to the composition.

The modern trend could be seen in the music of Constant Lambert. Here was a hint of cynicism and irony. Even in contemporary classical works could be felt the suggestion of the jazz age.

Large Display Of Stage Art

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Gallery of Canada at the weekend announced plans for the most pretentious international exhibition of stage art ever shown in North America.

The show, opening here April 12 and going later to Winnipeg to coincide with the Dominion Drama Festival there in May, will contain more than 300 works of costume and decorative designs from England, France, Russia, Hungary, Latvia, Denmark, Austria and Poland.

Dollfuss Family In Switzerland

House Debates Transport Bill

Hon. C. D. Howe Moves Bill to Extend Powers of Board

OTTAWA (CP)—Railway matters were to the fore in the House of Commons Monday, when Hon. C. D. Howe, Transport Minister, moved second reading of his bill to change the name of the Board of Railway Commissioners to the Board of Transport Commissioners and to extend its rate-fixing jurisdiction to air lines and inland water transport.

The bill seems assured of an easy passage through second reading as Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, approved of it generally with few reservations.

A. A. Heaps, C.C.F., Winnipeg North, yesterday moved adjournment of the House to discuss the lay-off in the C.N.R. shops and said he understood thousands of men would be thrown out of work.

There might be no lay-off at all, Mr. Howe said. The railway was negotiating with the shopmen's unions. Work had slackened up in the shops and the management had decided on a 20 per cent reduction in working time.

In recent years the unions had co-operated when lay-offs were necessary and spread the work out among all the employees. If this were done it would mean a five-day work week would be cut to four days and the average weekly pay of the shopmen reduced from $30 to $24.

The shop unions, however, were unwilling to spread the reduction over their membership and insisted on their contracts being fulfilled under which junior employees would be laid off and the senior men would continue on the five-day week.

He was hopeful negotiations with the union would result in no one being laid off and thought it unfortunate a political debate should take place when the negotiations were in progress.

PREMIER KING

Prime Minister King entered the three-hour debate with the observation he hoped the management of the railways would "take cognizance of what has been said here this afternoon as to the serious nature of increasing unemployment at this time."

J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, said the government should consider the matter more seriously than Mr. Howe appeared to consider it. If the privately-owned railway had "shown its heartlessness by laying off men last fall I don't see why we should follow now," he declared.

Nine Liberal members followed Mr. Heaps in his protest, but three others declared the Canadian National Railways should be allowed to carry on their business free from political interference.

BILL EXPLAINED

The Transport Bill, Mr. Howe explained, was designed to stabilize transportation in the public interest and also for those engaged in the industry. He believed its effect would be to lower rather than raise transportation rates.

RELIEF CASES TO BE DECIDED

VANCOUVER (CP)—A special meeting of the city council will be held Wednesday to discuss the future of about 230 single unemployed men recently cut off the provincial relief rolls.

The city has accepted responsibility for 250 war veterans over 50 years of age, as provided by the new provincial relief regulations, but has refused to care for the other 230.

The men are classed as "partially employable."

"These men have to eat," Alderman H. L. Corey, chairman of the civic social services committee, said Monday.

"Yes," Alderman Fred Crone said, "but does the city have to take the rap?"

"If the government refuses, the city will have to accept conditions which arise if the men starve," said Alderman Helena Gutteridge.

"The only alternative is to have a showdown with the provincial government," replied Alderman Crone.

Hitler Says Austria Not League Member

GENEVA (AP)—The League of Nations Monday announced receipt of notice from Berlin that Austria "no longer is considered" a member of the international body.

Joseph Avenol, secretary-general of the League, said, however, that the usual two-year notice must be complied with before Austria's withdrawal is completed.

The Berlin communication and M. Avenol's reply were expected to be published later.

MANY ATTEND CHURCH PARTY

St. Patrick's Day Banquet Attracts St. Andrew's Cathedral Congregation

The first annual St. Patrick's Day banquet of the congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Sunday, following high mass in the cathedral.

The affair was under the auspices of local knights and attracted nearly 200 persons. Bishop John C. Cody was toastmaster.

The guests sat down to long tables which had been decorated by members of the Catholic Youth Organization. Members of the Children of Mary served.

Some excellent speeches were heard, the toast list being as follows: "The King," Charles Webb, responded to by Commander C. T. Beard, commander-in-charge of the Naval Dockyard; "the Pope," by Arthur Cownden and Harry Colgan, state deputy of the K. of C. from Vancouver; "Canada," by Mrs. M. O'Neill and Joseph J. McKenna; "Old Ireland," by Miss Harriett O'Brien and Rev. Brother Walsh; "Our Parish," by Miss Norah O'Connell and Frank Mellan; "The Ladies," by John W. Bellis and Mr. Justice C. H. Contributing to the musical program were Keith Littler, Judy Norton, Elaine Basanta and the orchestra of St. Ann's Academy.

REPLY GIVEN TO DAIRYMEN

Dr. Richard Felton Answers Protest Against Article On Pasteurized Milk

Complaints of the South Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association against a recent article giving English views on pasteurized milk were answered yesterday by Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, at the request of the health committee.

The doctor says in part:

DID NOT ENDORSE ARTICLE

"My object was to give our public the English view of the nutritional value of pasteurized milk. It cannot even be claimed that I endorsed the article in question—so that this statement in the letter to the City Council is not correct.

"The milk from Grade A premises supplied raw to consumers in this city is clean and of good quality, but the question to be settled (and it must be settled in the minds of the consuming public, not in the minds of the farmers or of the health officials) is whether even this high quality of clean milk is safe from a health point of view."

Settlement Bill Passed By House

OTTAWA (CP) — Over the protests of a group of opposition and Liberal members the House of Commons Monday night gave third reading to the bill amending the Soldier Settlement Act sponsored by Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Resources.

The bill extends the dollar-for-dollar bonus privilege settlers have enjoyed since 1933 until March 31, 1941, in respect of arrears occurring up to March 31, 1937. Critics of the bill wanted it extended in respect of arrers occurring after March 31, 1937.

Under the dollar-for-dollar bonus privilege settlers are entitled to receive credit for an additional dollar for every dollar they pay on arrears owing on their lands. Thus if they pay one dollar they get credit for two.

The amending bill will give settlers who have not yet been able to take advantage of the privilege in whole or in part a chance to do so.

POLICY LIES WITH PARLEY

R. A. Wootton Reviews Business of National Conservative Conference

The future policy of the Conservative party and other matters incidental to the policy will await decision of the national convention called by the National Conservative Conference in Ottawa on March 4 and 5, R. A. Wootton, immediate past president of the B.C. Conservative Association, said on his return to Victoria from the eastern parley.

The decision to hold the national meeting in Ottawa was the most important step taken by the conference, Mr. Wootton said. An effort had been made to have the gathering held in Winnipeg but a majority vote had favored Ottawa.

In a review of the conference work Mr. Wootton said arrangements for the national convention would be attended to by a large national committee consisting of delegates from each of the provincial associations. Suggestions and recommendations as to policy will be sought from each of the provinces and these will be consolidated for presentation to the convention committee.

Another recommendation adopted by the conference was the suggestion to change the name to the National Conservative Party.

The value of holding such a conference had been thoroughly illustrated by the meeting which had been fully attended by delegates from all provinces, Mr. Wootton said. Also representing British Columbia were Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., and A. C. Desbrisay, Vancouver, who were in Ottawa on private business.

During their stay British Columbians were guests of B.C. members in the House and Senate. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett was host on two occasions to the visitors at a luncheon and dinner in the Chateau Laurier.

British Commons Is Given Apology

A. Lennox-Boyd Admits He Erred in Speaking of Czechoslovakia

LONDON (CP)—Alan Lennox-Boyd, parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Labor, apologized to the House of Commons Monday night for references to foreign affairs he made in a speech to his constituents last Friday.

The House accepted his statement that his references were "indiscreet."

Prime Minister Chamberlain, pressed by the opposition for a statement, said he was satisfied Mr. Lennox-Boyd "did commit an indiscretion, an error of judgment, and nothing more."

"I am satisfied to leave it at that," the Prime Minister said, adding that Mr. Lennox-Boyd was not speaking for the government.

The junior minister was quoted as having told his audience that nothing "could be more ridiculous than to guarantee the frontiers of Czechoslovakia when half the people of that country could not be relied upon to be loyal to the government of the day."

He arose in the House tonight and said:

"I do not atempt to deny I was indiscreet in making a speech on foreign affairs at this moment when my particular task lies elsewhere."

He apologized and said he had told the Prime Minister he did not attempt to speak for the government.

Seek Improvement To Main Highway

CLOVERDALE, B.C. (CP)—The Surrey municipal council today said it would ask the British Columbia government to improve the Pacific Highway from New Westminster to the United States boundary, a distance of approximately 20 miles.

At a meeting here Saturday night the council said the highway was "one of which to be ashamed."

It was suggested at the meeting that the improvement of the highway could be carried out as a government work project.

East Edmonton's Verdict

SOCIAL CREDIT WON A VICTORY IN the federal by-election in Edmonton East yesterday by giving its candidate, Mr. Orvis A. Kennedy, 9,920 votes, compared with Liberal candidate R. C. Marshall's 7,935, and Conservative candidate Walter C. Cleverley's 2,480. The figures quoted are unofficial, but final returns are not expected to make any material alteration in them. Distribution of political strength in the House at Ottawa, of course, will remain just as it was.

In the Dominion general election of 1935 six candidates in Edmonton East divided between them 16,212 votes. Of this total the official Social Credit standard-bearer obtained 5,721 and his unofficial Social Credit adherent found himself at the bottom of the poll with only 378 ballots. Four candidates opposing Social Credit split the rest. Of these the Liberal collected 4,889 and the Conservative 2,827. The Aberhart supporter, therefore has increased the party's tally by 1,821 and the Liberal by 3,046, while the Conservative dropped 347. The combined opposition rolled up nearly 500 more votes than Mr. Kennedy.

"Padlock Law" a Factor?

WHATEVER ELSE MAY BE READ INTO the Social Credit victory in Edmonton East, no matter what the general view of Canada towards the Aberhartian philosophy may be, a striking feature of the by-election is that a majority of the voters in the constituency involved seem as firm in their objection to what they think is an unfair economic set-up in the Dominion as they were when they helped to give Mr. Aberhart the authority to try his experiment.

Social Crediter Kennedy will not unnaturally consider his election to fill the seat in the House of Commons rendered vacant by the death of Dr. W. S. Hall as a legitimate protest against the disallowance by the Supreme Court of Canada of three bills passed at the session of the Alberta Legislature last year. Evidently some thousands of the electors of Edmonton East are still of the opinion that the press should be muzzled, that the banks should pay higher taxes, and that the province should be judged competent to amend and consolidate its credit regulations. The fact that most of the people of Canada, however, are opposed to any encroachment on civil liberties, or radical interference with well-tried economic and financial principles, does not appear to make any impression upon Albertan voters. What a general election in the province would bring forth, of course, is another matter entirely.

Alberta evidently thinks it has been badly treated by the Dominion. Her people still ardently believe that the three bills to which we have referred should have been permitted to become the statute law of the province. Nor is it any exaggeration to suggest that one factor in the verdict of the polls in Edmonton East was the federal government's attitude toward Quebec's "padlock law." Why should not Albertans say to Ottawa that as long as the Duplessis government in Quebec can get away with ultra-dictatorial legislation, they, too, ought to have the authority to do what they want with the press and the banks in the matter of muzzling and taxing respectively?

The "padlock law" which now is being considered by the Dominion authorities is in direct violation of the fundamental principles upon which the Canadian form of democratic government rests. It is even worse in its general implication than Alberta's vicious press-gagging legislation recently disallowed by the Supreme Court. For this reason: If it shall be operated to the limit—or as its authors would like to see it applied—there is always the danger of serious trouble, physical and otherwise. Quebec's assault on civil liberties savors altogether too much of a Nazi-Communist-Fascist outlook. Not only in Quebec, moreover, but in other parts of Canada there seems to be a growing inclination to rate as Communism any point of view not strictly in accordance with orthodox thought.

The Criminal Code of Canada carefully measures out the punishment to be served up to those who advocate the overthrow of government by force. The Duplessis "padlock law" would deny some of the fundamental liberties for long associated with British institutions. Edmonton East's polling-booth voice, therefore, should be noted by the authorities at Ottawa for what it may mean, aside from an expression of view on Social Credit.

Five Suits Too Many

SOME OF THE BRIDGE PROFESsionals have already turned out books on this new five-suit bridge and announce they are ready to open their instruction classes.

We are against this five-suit bridge because it is 20 per cent worse than four-suit bridge, which, in turn, is 33 1-3 per cent worse than three-suit bridge, which, in turn, is 50 per cent worse than two-suit bridge, which, in turn, is 100 per cent worse than one-suit bridge.

"Political Martyrs"

OTTAWA HAS FREED JOSEPH UNWIN, the Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature, sentenced to three months in jail in the "bankers' toadies" criminal libel case, although there is no pardon yet for C. F. Powell, the English visitor sentenced to six months in the same case.

In their appeal to Ottawa and to the country generally, Social Crediters have scoffed at the idea that the two men were really guilty of criminal libel. Instead, they were presented—inferentially—as the victims of a system similar to that which, in Czarist Russia, used to result in persons who were slightly unorthodox being exiled to Siberia. In the House of Commons the suggestion was clearly raised by Social Credit members that Canada stood on the threshold of a reign of political terrorism, the first act of which was the arrest of the two Aberhart officials. "Those two men are in prison for political reasons: you can't escape that fact," said J. H. Blackmore, Social Credit M.P. "We want to give the members of Parliament a chance to say whether or not they want political prisons in Canada."

Social Crediters have not been slow to seize the opportunity of turning the sentences to the advantage of their party. The case's aftermath has served to revive a waning public interest in the movement. It was probably an important factor in the large Social Credit vote in East Edmonton yesterday. The case emphasizes anew the possibilities in the "political martyr" cry. Smart governments, or majorities that want to save face, dodge being jockeyed into the oppressor's role.

CBC and Government

THE TORONTO TELEGRAM VIRUlently objects to an address on the Eden-Chamberlain controversy broadcast from Winnipeg by Mr. G. V. Ferguson, an able Canadian journalist. In milder form the Ottawa Journal agrees with the criticism of that address.

We agree with the Journal when it says: "It would be most unfortunate if the idea became general that the CBC is the tool of the government of the day, that the Dominion Cabinet is directly responsible for the content of any CBC broadcast.

"The Act of Parliament under which the corporation operates lays down certain broad principles, but any closer association between the government and the CBC would be mischievous. The two bodies must be disconnected as far as it is possible to sever them. That should be obvious."

The CBC should be a separate entity, must remain so if it is not to labor under a fatal suspicion of dictated propaganda. But we doubt that it can ever achieve that status so long as it is operated as government radio, with expenses paid by the government from special taxes collected from the people by the government.

Streamlined Pedestrians

MECHANICAL SCIENTISTS HAVE done wonders with streamlining, but they have overlooked one thing. No one can streamline the pedestrian. Modern automobiles are marvels of speed and power, but the 1938 pedestrian is the same plodding, poky individual he was 100 years ago.

The pedestrian, however, does have one advantage over the motor car. He can make up for his slow feet by his quick wits. He can avoid making the same mistakes which bring death and injury to an increasing number yearly. He can avoid chances, he can look and listen. He cannot be streamlined, but he can be cautious. He must be if he is to survive.

Notes

As the game stands in China, Tokio holds the bulk of the chips, but here would be the spot to receive a fake telephone call: "Come home at once."

As for Mr. Chamberlain's belief that his policy insures the peace of Europe, the New Yorker is ready to accept it when he makes Rome and Berlin bury their axis.

Hitler will visit Mussolini early in May to talk about Austria and Czechoslovakia, and there may be a dozen developments along the Berlin-Rome axis between now and then that will influence the topics of discussion. But one thing is certain. These two fellows will not be getting together to do anything so seasonable and innocent as electing a queen of the May.

FASCIST THREAT IN SPAIN

From New York Post

The victory of Fascism in Spain would enable Germany and Italy to cut French lines of communication with her African empire and its man power, and to strike at her across the Pyrenees from the south while her armies fought to hold the Maginot line in the west.

Spain raises questions for England as grave as those for France. A Fascist Spain will convert the Mediterranean into a Fascist lake and render useless the most important "life line" of the Empire.

JUST AN "AGGRESSIVE DIPLOMAT"

Paul Mallon, Columnist

Official inside talk here in Washington's foreign diplomatic circles about Hitler's annexation of Austria seems to be softening daily. In the first flush of excitement at the move, Der Furore was described as a bandit. Now officials have come down to calling him an aggressive diplomat.

Their official reason for keeping quiet is that they do not want to interfere with whatever action Britain and France take toward recognition or non-recognition of the conquest. They think they talked too quickly in the Ethiopian situation.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SOONER OR LATER

MR. LAPOINTE, the Canadian Minister of Justice, is about to hold a hearing on Quebec's purely Fascist padlock law. This, at least, is encouraging. It is the federal government's first indication that it intends to do something to preserve the ordinary liberties of the Canadian people.

How curious it is, when you come to think of it, that ours is the only known constitution in the democratic state which guarantees nobody any liberty. There is nothing in the British North America Act to say that a man in this country shall be free to say and think what he likes, as there is in the constitution of the United States.

The Fathers of Confederation assumed that between them the Dominion and the provinces would do the decent thing and preserve these liberties, because in 1867 nobody questioned them. Now they are being questioned by the Fascist government of Quebec, which holds that it has the right to decide what its own Quebec people may do, say or think, and the only way the Quebec government can be stopped is by the intervention of the federal government.

It should have intervened the day the law was passed. Now it is beginning to move at last and perhaps will do something.

Two big questions are involved here. First, every provincial government in Canada must be shown that there are certain basic rights assured to every Canadian, English or French, whatever province he lives in, and that these rights must be preserved however crazy the existing provincial government may be at the moment.

Second, it is becoming quite clear that if Canada is to get anywhere, if it is even to hang together and not break up, some Canadian government must have the courage sometime to say to Quebec that it is part of this country, must abide by the majority wish of this country and cannot forever, by its single dissenting voice, hold up every worthwhile reform that the country attempts.

Sooner or later some government will have to face this issue and perhaps go into the wilderness on it. In fact, what we have long needed in Canada are a few statesmen who are ready to go into the wilderness on questions of principles instead of staying in office at all costs. It is in the wilderness that men and political parties acquire virtue and intelligence.

So far as I know, no Canadian wants to interfere with Quebec's language, religion or beliefs. No racial minority in the world has been as well treated as the French of Quebec, and nobody regrets that. But sooner or later the French will have to learn that they are part of Canada and that a Canadian is a Canadian, with certain human rights, whether he is east or west of the Ottawa River.

YOGA

NEXT DOOR, they say it wasn't so bad when the young demons merely joined the Robbers of the Sea—a radio organization designed to promote a commercial cereal—and the Cult of the Ancient Scorpion, because the functions of these two societies were merely to encourage the cutting of throats and the exploration of prehistoric Egyptian tombs. This was fairly harmless sport, and the people next door didn't object, either, when their young offspring became Hunters of the Plains and went in for scalping the Redskins. But the latest thing is Yoga. And that's serious.

Yoga is much more serious than exploring tombs or cutting throats or taking scalps. Yoga, said the little girl from next door, "is kind of holy, if you know how, but not many do. It's all in your breathing, you know."

"Yes, you have to learn to control your breathing," said her brother. He drew in an enormous breath to show me and held it until he got blue in the face.

"When a Yogi draws in his breath that way," said she, "he can transplant his soul. He can transplant it wherever he pleases. Frinstance, if he was in India, he could transplant his soul to Greenland."

"Or," said he, "if he was in bed at night he could transplant himself downstairs to the cake box. I tell you, Yoga is a swell idear."

"You shouldn't make fun of it that way," said she. "You have to be holy to be a Yogi. If you sit with your legs crossed, this way, and breathe very deep, and think very holy—like, frinstance, thinking of how evil you used to be when you were a baby—well, if you think holy enough, you ascend on high. That's what it says on the radio. You ascend on high. I haven't ascended on high yet but I expect to soon because I've been very holy during Lent."

"If you're a good Yogi," said he, "you ascend on high and it leaves your body as cold as a stone. But the trouble," said he, "is when I draw in my breath that way and try to hold it until I ascend on high, well, I always blow out suddenly and it gives me the hiccups. Hiccups are very bad for a Yogi."

Correct this sentence: "When my failing eyesight made driving dangerous," said the man, "I quit."

Another of life's bitter experiences: Watching those you love make monkeys of themselves by "putting on."

DARROW THE AGNOSTIC

From Toronto Star

A remarkable character, gloomy yet strangely appealing, has passed away in the person of the great criminal lawyer Clarence Darrow. He loved his fellow-men and befriended the down-trodden and underprivileged. He was opposed to capital punishment and laws of a repressive character.

Although he denied the existence of God and of the human soul, and professed to be unable to understand how a human being, derived from the clay, could have spiritual qualities, Darrow proved that he had a conscience and a heart. He was better than his philosophy. Cynic and materialist as he said he was, he was capable of unselfishness and self-sacrifice for the good of others. A host of persons who did not share his outlook upon life are glad that one such character lived and moved in our times.

Can Britain Part Italy From Germany On Rome-Berlin Axis?

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.

BY COMMON consent, it has long been held in the best-informed circles that one of the screwiest things an outsider can do is to get into a game where the cards are marked, where the dice are loaded or where some of the players have a secret signal system.

The game of international power politics is such a game in which no one knows which cards are marked, which dice loaded or which nations are playing footie and with whom.

Stakes and tensions are rising in Europe. But the State Department here, which loves the game, can hardly dare make the point that "it's the only game in town."

Simplification of the European situation is riskier than it is simple. It would be much easier if one could accept the current official diplomatic view that the "Rome-Berlin axis" has been busted by Hitler's annexation of Austria. The plain fact, however, is that no one can tell from this distance how tight is the bond between Hitler and Mussolini, or how bright are England's chances of severing the bond. The net effect is fairly certain to strengthen the position of those who want to keep their noses out of European affairs.

Scaring Mussolini Into Changing His Mind

IL DUCE SURPRISED

THIS GOVERNMENT has confidential advices — which it believes — that active Nazi penetration of Austria which began when Hitler summoned Chancellor Schuschnigg to a conference in February, was a surprise to Mussolini and that the Duce knew nothing of the conference until he read about it in the newspapers.

Officials believe that Mussolini fears Hitler — now that German troops are at the Brenner Pass — that the interests of Hitler and Mussolini conflict, that Italy wants and needs a Mediterranean agreement with England more than anything else and that Mussolini regards prospective German penetration into Czechoslovakia and the Balkans as a menace to her.

Consequently, they infer, it will be easy for the Chamberlain government to work out an agreement with Mussolini on the Mediterranean situation and then to play off Italy against Germany.

This would be in line with the British tradition of allying herself with various European powers against the strongest continental power—which once was France, then came to be Germany, and then again was France and now, again, is Germany.

PUT BRITAIN IN MIDDLE

THE OLD British game of playing both ends against the middle was at least temporarily interrupted when Hitler and Mussolini decided that they could and would put England herself in the middle.

This arrangement blossomed into an "anti-Communist" pact with Japan which caused Britain simultaneously to worry about German air raids, control of the Mediterranean and her "life line" to India and her interests in the Far East. It bloomed into a climax, at least according to certain likely grapevine reports, when Germany and Italy both refused to enter into any "appeasement" negotiations with England until Anthony Eden resigned as foreign minister.

Not everyone in the State Department is so naive as to believe that Italy will now decide to part company with Nazi Germany and cast in her lot with England in return for certain not too vital concessions. There are those who believe that Hitler and Mussolini long ago agreed that Germany should have Austria and that Italy should have Spain — and, in each case, goodness knows how much more territory.

Nothing is proved except the fact that New World countries, with few if any chips on the table as yet, just don't know what's happening or what's about to happen in Europe and presumably should stay out of the game.

CANADA'S NO. 1 FASCIST

From Ottawa Citizen

An instructive glimpse at the mind of Adrien Arcand, Canada's No. 1 Fascist, is afforded by an interview with him in the current number of the New York Nation, written by David Martin. According to his own valuation of himself, Mr. Arcand is quite a power in the Dominion, though the probability is that this valuation is exaggerated.

Mr. Arcand is the chief of the Parti Social Canadian du Canada. He told his interviewer that "I would estimate our following in Quebec at 80,000." But he qualified this by stating that this was the number of votes "obtained by the candidates we supported in the last provincial election." On that basis of reckoning, Mr. Tim Buck would claim that since 44,000 people voted for him in the Toronto civic election there were 44,000 Communists in that city.

The background of Mr. Arcand's policies is a philosophy which seems to have been inspired by Hitler. "We believe," he said, "that the Jews are responsible for all the evils in the world." Not some of the evils, remember, not most, but all! He says they control finance, but when it was pointed out that there is not a Jew on the board of directors of a single Canadian bank, mortgage firm, utility or transportation corporation, he replied, "The Jews don't work openly."

This young blackshirt dreams of taking over power in Canada one day. "By regular constitutional means." Yet he thinks constitutional and democratic institutions are evils. "If law and order broke down in Canada," he is quoted as saying, "I would resort to force to save the country from Communism."

As a seer, Mr. Arcand has definite visions. Civil war is coming in France—"much worse than in Spain." He expects it to start pretty soon. After that Belgium, then Yugoslavia and Denmark. In the United States, too, things are "rapidly approaching a climax."

Incidentally, Mr. Arcand was in charge of propaganda in Quebec for the Conservatives during the last federal election, he says. He has been an active Fascist since 1933, and he declares he knows Mr. Bennett. "But we will have to give Mr. Bennett and the Conservative party as clean a licking as anybody else," he adds.

THEY YEARN FOR PEACE

From Montgomery Advertiser

Do you know that in all of Europe there is only one country that has never since its foundation waged a war? That country is Norway. We are reminded of this by an article from Vu et Lu of Paris. Says that publication:

"Do you know the three words most frequently used by Hitler in the 50-odd speeches he has made since coming to power?

"'Peace' 427 times; 'father' and 342 times, 'honor' 306 times.

"Do you remember what the mikado said in an interview some years ago? 'The Japanese Empire has been built on one foundation stone—the love of peace'."

SOCIAL CREDIT IDEAS

From Hansard

Hon. Mr. Dunning . . . . Let me say at once that, in my opinion, social credit rests upon an incorrect diagnosis of an existing malady and prescribes a cure which would be dangerous in the extreme. In other words, the whole theory is based upon a false premise, and the whole program which derives from that theory is unsound and pernicious.

Mr. A. H. Mitchell (Social Credit, Medicine Hat) . . . . It is like a gigantic poker game. I happen to know something about the game. I know that the man who runs the game is called a banker. That may be a coincidence. The banker "drags" each pot; it is only a small drag, hardly a percentage of the pot each time; but as the game goes on and the banker keeps dragging, if the same players stay in the game, eventually the banker must have all the money. Unless new players come in, eventually all the players, or at least some of them, are bound to be in debt to the banker. That is the way it operates.

Superannuation Policy Sought

Two Finance Committee Sponsored Retirements Rescinded By Council

The action of the finance committee in recommending superannuation of certain employees, without first consulting the committees with jurisdiction over the departments in which they were employed, was criticized by Alderman Archie Wills at yesterday's meeting of the City Council.

During the meeting two retirements, recommended by the finance committee and passed by the council, were rescinded.

Discussion arose when the finance committee brought in a recommendation calling for rescinding of the motion placing W. W. Cavett, a fireman, on superannuation effective May 31.

Alderman Wills expressed the opinion the fire wardens should have been consulted before the superannuation was recommended in the first place. He asked for some definite basis for retirement in future. The action, he said, had upset the department.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden moved to refer to the fire wardens the new finance committee motion to retain Mr. Cavett for a further 12 months.

Alderman Wills declared the committee should at least consult department heads before taking action on employees.

The mayor stated that under the act, such employees could be retired as they reached the age listed for pension for men in their respective callings.

The action, Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan, finance committee chairman, said, was an outgrowth of a survey sought from the city comptroller-treasurer regarding men past the pension age. The motion to rescind the original action had been put forward at Mr. Cavett's request, he said.

On the recommendation of the health committee, the council also rescinded the motion retiring Miss M. Hardie at the end of May.

The action had been necessitated through incorrect information received by the city regarding arrangements with provincial and hospital authorities over the reorganization of the Isolation Hospital, of which Miss Hardie is matron, Mayor McGavin stated.

There were many angles to the case, the mayor added.

Alderman B. J. Gadsden indicated the city could expect aid from the provincial government in a move to bring the isolation unit under the Jubilee Hospital administration.

Motorcyclist's Legs Are Burned

Severely burned about the legs, which were covered with gasoline when his motorcycle fell on him, John Norton, 32, 1110 Tattersal Drive, was still confined to the Jubilee Hospital today, but his condition was reported to be good.

Norton was burned when flames enveloped his legs as he was pinned underneath his motorcycle on Haliburton Road, Saanich, Saturday afternoon.

According to Saanich police, Norton was attempting to climb Haliburton Hill at Cordova Bay with his machine when it slipped from him. Gasoline from the tank spilled over his legs and was ignited apparently by the heat of the cylinders or the exhaust.

After extricating himself from underneath the machine, Norton ran to Cordova Bay Road, where he was picked up by Leslie Johns and rushed to hospital. Dr. Hermann Robertson attended him.

An offer from the Attorney-General's department of $200 a year rental for use of the city police court for provincial cases was accepted by the City Council yesterday afternoon.

A letter from P. J. Sinnott requesting services on a new cross street running through Topaz Avenue, or suggesting the city reimburse his client, A. J. Morley, to the extent of the assessed value of his two lots in that section plus taxes, was referred to the city solicitor and the public works committee.

Proofs of a large advertisement in the Saturday Evening Post, carrying publicity on Victoria, were received and filed. The proofs, with a covering letter, were forwarded by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

The Vancouver Island Lifeboat Association will be advised the city has no property at the foot of Foul Bay Road to house a boathouse. Presence of a drain there prevented allocation of city land for that purpose, Alderman James Adam stated.

A permit allowing D. L. MacMurchie to construct a temporary shed in which to build a pleasure boat was granted by the council.

Purchase of a new Pontiac car for the police department, recommended by the police commission, was approved.

A draft amendment to the streets traffic regulation by-law giving right-of-way privileges to pedestrians, was referred to the public works committee. The need for the change, requested by the organization for the blind, was explained by Alderman W. H. Davies.

Authority to renew and replace pipe and a tank in the Sooke Harbor system was granted to the water commissioner. Revenue from the system for one year would meet the costs of the work, the official stated. Requisitions for sweeper brooms were also authorized.

A request from the Victoria Police Revolver Club for an agreement permitting renewal of its lease on Thetis Lake property was referred to the water board.

Permission to install new gasoline tanks at the corner of Fisgard and Douglas Streets was granted to the Home Oil Distributors Ltd.

On the recommendation of the finance committee, the council declined any grant this year to the Central Exchange. The decision was protested by Alderman B. J. Gadsden.

Approval of the extraordinary expenditures of the school board, with the exception of certain votes which came to $2,000, was given by the council on a motion to that effect from Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan. The action reduced the extraordinary estimates from $6,360 to $4,360.

Sale of three parcels of land, recommended by the lands committee, was ratified. One covered an offer of $400 cash for a lot on the east side of Heywood Avenue, between Rupert and Pendergast, a second for $350 for a lot in the Fairfield district, and a third $125 for a lot on the east side of Fifth Street.

Strong letters had been written to those who had desecrated graves on Coffin Island, Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands committee, reported.

The council passed a resolution of thanks to Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, and E. C. Manning, chief forester, for cooperation in improving Mount Douglas Park and Thetis Lake areas, where forestry camp workers have been engaged.

Two tenders for supplies required by the city for an automatic traffic signal at the intersection of Johnson and Government Streets, were referred to the electric light committee and the purchasing agent. Bids for the demolition of a structure on Howe Street were turned over to the health committee for a report.

Action to establish a "no-park" strip in front of the City Hall, sought by Alderman B. J. Gadsden, met with the support of the council. The matter was referred to the public works committee for a report.

The city solicitor was instructed to take whatever course he considered necessary in the action of P. R. Leighton to see whether or not the city was justified in selling its water to Oak Bay at a figure as low as that set in the new terms drafted by the city.

LONG DEBATE ON PIN GAMES

Esquimalt Council Defers Action on License Motion After Legal Opinion

The Esquimalt Council will wait for some other body to take the first step to have the legality or otherwise of pin ball, slot and similar machines definitely decided before taking a vote on a motion by Councillor R. G. Humphreys that such machines should be licensed in the municipality.

At a meeting last night the council decided to lay the motion on the table for future consideration, after a lengthy opinion by the municipal solicitor, G. H. Sedger, on the legal aspects of the imposition of a license fee had been read and debated.

Mr. Sedger said the Municipal Act provided municipal councils could regulate or prohibit vending machines, but that the legality of pin games and slot machines was the subject of many conflicting opinions by various courts in Canada.

Under the Criminal Code, any place where any game of chance or of mixed chance and skill was played with part of the proceeds going to the owner was defined as a common gaming house.

If pin games and slot machines were for amusement only they would not be classified as gaming, but he doubted whether this were often the case. If slugs or tokens with any commercial value were used the machines were contrary to the statute, he believed.

"It appears we would be playing with fire," said Reeve Alexander Lockley.

"The practice is carried on all over Canada, and in Victoria, and it seems they collect licenses. Why shouldn't we?" argued Councillor Humphreys. "Against the law or not, it's going on all over the country."

Reeve Lockley contended that if the machines were licensed and an operator were prosecuted as the owner of a gaming house, the municipality would be liable as an accessory to the fact.

"The moral and legal aspects don't bother me a bit. Here is a source of revenue, so we might as well make use of it," said Councillor Humphreys.

Counsellor Thomas Hadfield suggested a test case be brought against the operator of a machine.

Councillor Humphreys replied he did not want to take the machines away from the stores, as they were often one of their main sources of revenue.

New Financing On Schools Plea

Trustees Suggest Province Pay All Costs and Levy More Taxes

B.C. School Trustees' Association yesterday afternoon added its voice before the Rowell Commission to those seeking to take the taxation of schools off real estate, proposing that current school costs should all be paid out of the provincial consolidated revenue with a provincial sales tax or increase in income tax to raise the necessary money.

George A. Grant, secretary, estimated a 1 per cent sales tax in B. C. would raise $7,500,000, just about enough to care for the municipal school bill.

He proposed that local school districts should continue to pay capital costs for new buildings, possibly with provincial help.

Mr. Grant argued that: "Education being a service to the state and to individuals as human units and a benefit common to all, should be paid for not by the individuals who happen to own land rather than, say, shares and bonds, but by all individuals viewed as a whole according to their real ability to pay measured by their total income as a body politic."

The trustees' brief supported in general seven recommendations made by Dr. H. B. King in his report on B.C. school finances, on the following points: that the provincial government should take complete financial responsibility for education; that there should be a uniform provincial tax on real property of three to four mills; that the rest of education costs be paid from provincial revenue, with the income tax increased or a new sales tax; that assessments be equalized on a scientific basis; that financial aid be given municipalities; and that a "pay-as-you-go" principle for schools be adopted as far as possible, with a special one-half mill tax made for a building reserve.

"That last one is the wisest recommendation we've heard," commented Chairman Newton Rowell.

Esquimalt Council Briefs

There is nothing in the Municipal Act to prevent a school trustee from having business dealings with the municipality, except directly through the school board, the Esquimalt Council was informed by its solicitor, G. H. Sedger, in a letter received last night. The question arose at the previous meeting of the council through a request from J. P. A. Christensen, a school trustee, for a share in the service and repair work on municipal trucks.

The council will give a hearing to representatives of the local division of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees at its next meeting, April 4. The union, in a letter received last night, asked for an interview with the council and its delegates on street railway franchise matters.

The council and school board will meet at a date to be set later with the Esquimalt Community Club to discuss arrangements for the selection and crowning of a May queen in the municipality, it was decided.

Preliminary readings were given to a by-law to amend the present zoning by-law to change a parcel of land owned by the Gorge Hotel from a residential to a retail area in order to permit the erection of a coffee and sandwich stand on the beer parlor's property.

The municipality will communicate with military headquarters at Work Point and with a contractor in connection with damage being done to the roadway on Stevenson and Lampson Streets by sand and gravel trucks employed on the defence projects at Fort Macaulay. Councillor Thomas Hadfield told the council the heavy trucks, traveling at high rates of speed, were seriously damaging the surface.

PROVINCE CAN ASSIST CITIES

Premier Pattullo told the Rowell Commission yesterday afternoon that if the province could get its finances rearranged so it could operate independently of Ottawa it could solve the municipal problem itself.

The Premier interposed this comment in a discussion between Vancouver Corporation Counsel D. E. McTaggart and Prof. H. F. Angus over Vancouver's claim that the tax burden on land must be lightened.

Mr. McTaggart said that if the city was given some alternative source of revenue it would solve the problem about as well as the senior governments taking a greater share of social service, education and relief costs.

"Supposing that your plan to shift these burdens to the other governments were carried out across Canada. Would the citizens of Vancouver actually save anything in taxes?" asked Prof. Angus.

"No, I think it would amount to the same thing, except the tax dollar would be collected on a more equitable basis," replied Mr. McTaggart.

TELLS GYROS ABOUT FLOOD

"B. N. Gallow" (Len Woodhouse) Describes Recent Trip South

"B. N. Gallow," picture tycoon from the magic land of Hollywood, was scheduled to address the Victoria Gyro Club yesterday at luncheon.

Mr. Gallow did not show up.

The temporary disappointment did not daunt the Gyros. They started back after acting chairman Bert Challoner announced the speaker was in conference and would appear on the dot of one.

One o'clock arrived. Still no Mr. Gallow. Having been assigned to make the introduction, however, Cuthbert Holmes went right ahead. The worthy Gyros were really puzzled until Mr. Holmes explained the situation and the subsequent connection between B. N. Gallow, bungalow and Len Woodhouse, no less than a fellow member hiding behind Waldo Skillings at one of the tables.

After the mystery had been cleared up Mr. Woodhouse gave an interesting talk on his recent trip to Los Angeles and visit there during the flood. "I wouldn't trade a mile of Victoria waterfront scenery for all the views in California," he declared.

Mr. Woodhouse described the scene in the city itself where the water on many of the main streets was flowing over the curbstones. In Los Angeles itself, he said, there was really a panic. Department stores closed and for a short time the city was without light. Candles had to be flown into Palm Springs, fashionable desert resort, which had been cut off without electricity for many hours.

Island Girl Guides Doing Helpful Work

Annual Reports of South Vancouver Island District Reveals Progress Made; Permanent Camp House Planned

Girl Guides in Victoria and vicinity are living up to the tenets of guiding by extending a helping hand to others, as proved by the reports presented last night at the annual meeting of the South Vancouver Island division of the Girl Guide Association. Mrs. Alan Morkill, acting divisional commissioner, was in the chair.

Encouraging reports were also given of the progress of arrangements for the erection of a clubhouse at the permanent camp site acquired at Sooke, to which fund several of the Guide companies and auxiliaries have contributed.

BADGE EXAMS

Badge examinations were held in the spring and fall, and it was shown in the report of the convener, Mrs. E. Lillie, that over 100 badges were taken, with only three failures. The standard of the badges taken were of the highest order, and among some of them were the first-class badge, astronomer, international knowledge and world citizen badge.

VICTORIA WEST

Mrs. E. Sills, district secretary, gave the Victoria West District report. The Second Lady Douglas Company entered the camp fire singing competition at the last musical festival and was awarded the cup, and at the spring flower show its display was a given a special prize. At Christmas a hamper was given to a needy family. The Third C.W.L. Company was presented with its colors during the time of the Coronation, and at Hallowe'en a masquerade was enjoyed, also a party at Christmas. Mrs. Sampson, a captain from Edmonton, has taken charge of the Fourth Victoria West Company through the vacancy made by Miss P. MacDonald. Last year the Fifth Coronation Company was formed, and in the summer a garden party was held.

Joint meetings with other companies, and a week-end camp at Deep Cove, a silver tea, hikes and a beach supper following the Coronation rally were among the activities of the Sixth Cathedral Company. For Christmas, the Guides made a patchwork quilt, which was added to the Lady Douglas Company's hamper. A concert was held in May by First Victoria West Pack, and at Christmas the Brownies sang carols at the Aged Women's Home and donated oranges, sweets and holly. The Second Victoria James Bay Pack in the summer joined with Lady Douglas Company in holding a garden fete. A carnival was held and as a result the Brownies were able to donate $50 towards the house being planned on the camp site at Sooke.

Good work in helping others was accomplished by First Victoria West Rangers by making ties for the Fairbridge Company, cleaning windows, weeding a garden, providing decorations and presents for a poor family's Christmas tree, helping with the Scout Toyshop work and giving a donation to the camp site fund.

The West District Local Association report was read by Miss Hilda Leighton and the activities included a telephone bridge to raise money in carrying on the useful work of the Guides.

EAST DISTRICT

The formation of the local association of the East Victoria District last year was outlined by Miss K. Wilson. A concert was held at the St. Mary's Hall where $34.90 was made. Week-end camps were held at Prospect Lake in February. The Ranger Company took part in the Campfire Group of the Musical Festival, and on May 24 six Rangers went to Vancouver, where they were entertained by the Point Grey Rangers. In the summer they visited 2nd Cobble Hill Guide Company at the Solarium. The Joan of Arc Company obtained first place in the divisional relay at the Coronation Rally at Beacon Hill. A garden party was held.

Gonzales Company was honored by being asked to carry its colors for the welcome of President F. D. Roosevelt. All companies worked hard for the camp fund. At Christmas hampers were packed by the Guides. Both the Oaklands and Foul Bay Packs reported good work and Gonzales was now a full pack.

NORTH DISTRICT

Mrs. V. J. Pritchard reported the 3rd North Company took part in all district activities. At Christmas food was provided for a needed family, and 30 dolls dressed for the toy shop. The 7th North Company won the cup for the highest points at the sports day at Beacon Hill Park. Dolls were dressed for the toy shop and a hamper given a needy family. The 8th Company and 2nd North Pack have progressed, and the camp-site fund benefited by $40.50 by a donation from the Esquimalt Local Association, this being the result of a garden party, at which the 7th Victoria North Guides and the 5th Victoria North Brownies contributed the entertainment.

The L.A. of 3rd North Company was able to donate $15 to the camp site fund as a result of card parties.

TRAINING CLASSES

It was announced that training classes would be held from April 21 to 23 at the Cathedral Scout Hall, with Miss M. Ames, Vancouver, as instructor.

Pictures of the King and Queen and Princess Royal, together with the facsimile of the anointing spoon used at the Coronation and a sample of the embroidered material used in decorating Westminster Abbey, were on display, having been sent to Victoria through the kindness of Mrs. McAllister, Vancouver.

The meeting was held in the Municipal I.O.D.E. headquarters, to which organization the gathering passed a vote of thanks for loaning the room. The press were also accorded a hearty vote of thanks for courtesies extended.

U.S. Cannot Isolate Itself

Says Mrs. Roosevelt In Seattle Talk on "Peace"

SEATTLE (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in an address last night said the United States could not isolate itself from other nations where war is concerned, but must take active part in preserving world peace.

Speaking on the subject of "Peace" before a capacity audience at Meany Hall on the University of Washington campus, she said:

"There never will be a great war in any part of the world which we won't feel. We cannot go gaily along and have everything we'd like to have and let the rest of the world go hang. We are too closely tied together for that."

She likened the U.S. position in world affairs to that of one section of the country to another. All, she said, were affected by what happened to one.

"Hence," she continued, "we must take into consideration that we should act for the best interests of the world at large in preserving peace."

Stork Derby Winners' Plans

TORONTO (CP)—Not a single big idea, or even a mildly capricious one, was entertained today by Toronto's stork derby champions.

The Smiths, Nagles, Timlecks and MacLeans are to be $125,000 richer when the residue of the Charles Vance Millar estate is distributed among them.

What will they do with it? Mrs. Alice Timleck, her husband and their 14 children will move to a 10-acre farm near Toronto and raise pigs and chickens. Timleck will give up his parks department job with the city "because the job is needed more by another man."

Mrs. Annie Smith's fireman-husband will keep his job. The Smiths will buy a house "and maybe a small car."

Mrs. Isabel MacLean and her husband say nothing. They intend keeping silent until the Millar will executors hand them a cheque.

Would Aid Poor--But Wed Rich

Though they are pretty well off and "still take their husbands from Harvard, Princeton and Yale rather than from transient camps," Vassar College girls are nevertheless perturbed over the poverty of their less fortunate sisters, Vivian Liebman, undergraduate editor of the Vassar newspaper, told a U.S. Senate Sub-committee. She was testifying in support of a bill to appropriate $500,000,000 for American youth, and is pictured above as, with Sen. Ernest Lundeen, its author, sitting beside her, she declared the Vassar student body favors the measure.

WEDDINGS

BEST—WINDELER

Of much interest to the bridegroom's many friends in Victoria and the islands was the wedding which took place on January 29 in the little parish church of Henlow, Bedfordshire, England, of Flight-Lieut. Gordon Livingstone Best, R.A.F., second son of Capt. and Mrs. V. C. Best, Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island, B.C., and Marjorie Doris Windeler, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Windeler, Ottawa.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. A. W. Collins, formerly for some years vicar of Salt Spring Island. Mrs. Collins presided at the organ, playing the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." The hymn sung was "Love, Divine, All Loves Excelling." The church was decorated with daffodils, mauve tulips and mauve and white lilac.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Flight-Lieut. Morgan Keddie, who also gave her away, was dressed in her traveling suit of brown cloth, with a small brown felt hat and accessories to match. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Morgan Keddie, as matron of honor. The best man was Flight-Lieut. T. Pearce.

After the ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keddie, at which about 35 guests were present. The rooms were decorated with spring flowers, daffodils, tulips and lilac. The wedding cake was surmounted by four small airplanes, with a larger silver airplane on a stand in the centre.

The bride and groom left by train for London en route to Paris, where the honeymoon was spent. They will live at Pembroke Dock, where the bridegroom is stationed.

The regular meeting of the Metropolitan W.M.S. was held in the schoolroom, Miss G. Baker, president, in the chair. Worship period was led by Mrs. Frederick King at the piano. Special prayer for missionaries Miss M. Bock and Miss Collart was offered by the president. A letter was read from Mrs. Jack Scott enclosing a thank offering. Reports were received from treasurer and corresponding secretary, Miss Braid; Mrs. Cliff reported 126 calls made to homes, hospitals and strangers. "Dime Cards," a new feature for the 50th anniversary, was introduced by the president, and a committee was formed of Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Redman, Mrs. J. T. Smith and Miss E. Harte. Mrs. W. H. Whiteley's group had charge of the program. Mrs. W. R. Seeley read the scripture, and Mrs. A. Lee led in prayer. The guest speaker, Rev. C. Borup, returned missionary from India, gave a splendid address on his work. Miss Edna Burgess sang a solo, with Mrs. Rae Baker at the piano. At a later executive meeting the date of the 50th anniversary was changed from April 6 to April 13. Plans are under way for anniversary banquet and the pageant giving the story of the W.M.S. from 1888 to the present day will be presented.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Victoria City Temple will be hostesses tomorrow afternoon at an Irish tea in the social hall, North Park Street, from 3 to 5. A good program has been arranged. DAMAGES FOR CHILD STAR

London Journal to Pay $10,000 to Shirley Temple For Libel

LONDON (AP) — Shirley Temple of the movies has been awarded $10,000 in public settlement of a libel action based on an article which appeared October 28, 1937, in "Night and Day," a London journal which has since discontinued publication.

Lord Chief Justice Hewart termed the article a "gross outrage."

Sir Patrick Hastings, plaintiff counsel, refused to read the "beastly publication" in court, but said it was "one of the horriblest libels one can imagine about a child nine years of age."

The libel action was brought against the author of the article, Graham Greene, the proprietors of the journal, the publisher and the printer.

The Twentieth Century Fox Company, which produced "Wee Willie Winkle," a picture starring Shirley, also was a plaintiff in the suit. It was awarded $7,500.

Over 300 Enjoy Irish Concert

About 300 attended the St. Andrew's and Caledonia Society's annual St. Patrick's concert and dance Friday evening in the A.O.F. Hall, Cormorant Street. A programme of Irish songs and music was arranged by J. P. Torrance, and included songs by Mrs. Bert Noel, Dorothy Orchin, Jennie Hudson, Cecilia Badger, Bobbie Wilkinson, Lawrence Orchin and J. P. Torrance; musical numbers by Archie Jasper and Reg. Stofer, consisting of concertina, guitar and musical saws; E. Fullerton and Mr. Rodger, accordion and violin; trombone solo, Fred Townsend; recitation, Dorothy Blair; trio, Miss Iris Smith, Miss Schwengers and Miss Fryatt; dancing by Mona Jewell's pupils, Jim McBeth in sailor's hornpipe and Irish jig. Fourth Set Of Twins Is Born

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Six years ago, when a maternity nurse said "twins" to Terrence Gibbons, he was unprepared and showed it.

Last night, when another nurse emerged from his wife's hospital room, Gibbons beat her to it. "Twins?" he said. The nurse nodded.

It was an easy guess for Gibbons; the new arrivals were the fourth set of twins born to his 31-year-old wife, Evelyn, in six years. The boy and girl born last night brought the Gibbons' family to nine. Only their first-born, now a boy of seven, was not a twin.

CIVILIZED FOODS MEAN DEATH TO SAVAGES

Civilization's diseases are almost unknown to savages, largely because they eat natural foods. When they adopt civilization's foods they die like flies. We become chiefly what we eat; when we eat soft, denatured and demineralized foods we lose vigor, strength and health, because the foods themselves lack these qualities, Dr. Robt. G. Jackson, discoverer of Roman Meal, the naturally vitalizing, mineral-rich cereal, was literally dying at fifty. At eighty he enjoys superb health. Has for almost thirty years defied colds, aches, pains and disease. How? Because of proper foods and living habits. Thousands have won health by his method. You can do likewise. Eat Roman Meal daily, drink Kofy-Sub, the delicious alkaline, iron-rich beverage, and in a short time the change in your sense of well-being will amaze you. Remember, Roman Meal is so easy to prepare — cooks in three to five minutes. If you prefer it softer just set off fire, covered, for an extra twenty minutes. Roman Meal and all Dr. Jackson products are sold by your grocer. Start today. Write ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D., 577 Vine Ave., Toronto, for health literature.

H. Molson Of Montreal Dies

MONTREAL (CP)—Lieut.-Col. Herbert Molson, C.M.G., M.C., prominent Canadian business executive and president of the Brewery company bearing his name, died Monday night.

Mr. Molson, who would have been 63 years old March 29, had been suffering several months from a lingering illness that had forced him to resign from the presidency of the Montreal General Hospital, whose affairs he had guided since 1922.

He was a director of the Bank of Montreal, the Royal Trust Co., the Dominion Rubber Co. Ltd., the Bell Telephone Co. and Canadian Industries Ltd., and was associated with other financial and manufacturing concerns. But he also was known as a philanthropist, athlete, churchman and a soldier.

SERVED IN WAR

As officer commanding A Company of the 42nd Battalion Royal Highlanders of Canada, he went overseas in 1915 and remained there until 1919. He was awarded the Military Cross and his name was brought to notice by the Secretary of State for valuable services rendered. He was wounded at Ypres in June, 1916.

Lieut.-Col. Molson was almost as familiar to the sporting world as in that of business, especially to the hockey crowds. He always attended games of Montreal Maroons, of whose club he was a director.

Born the son of John Thomas Molson and his wife, the former Jennie Baker, Herbert Molson received his education at Montreal public and high schools and McGill University, where the athletic stadium today bears the family name.

Century-old Styles Are Revived

London Fair Shows Recamier Gowns; Women Buyers Busy

LONDON — A novel item of the fashion display at the British Industries Fair, which opened recently and which the Queen will visit, is a tableau representing the famous portrait in the Louvre of Madame Recamier, acknowledged leader of Paris and London fashions over 100 years ago.

The portrait shows Madame Recamier in her 23rd year, reclining on a couch and wearing a full-cut evening gown of classical design. A London girl, Miss Iris Leslie, has been chosen to represent Madame Recamier in this tableau, and her gown has been made by the students of the Royal College of Art, South Kensington.

After the illuminated spectacle of the picture, Miss Leslie walks slowly around the stage to show off the full beauty of the gown, and two other models will then follow her, both wearing modern versions of the same classical style.

A feature of this year's fair is the number of women buyers who are coming from all over the world.

As many as 19 countries will be represented by women as well as by men, including Italy, France, Germany, Holland, Poland and Roumania, and women are on their way to London and Birmingham from Australia, Canada, New Zealand, South Africa and the Straits Settlements.

They are especially interested in British textiles, china and leather goods, and in these sections they will find women exhibitors to greet them, for women now established as manufacturers will be showing fancy goods, toys and games, stationery, leather goods and pottery.

ZIPP FASTENERS

White lilac and champagne ushered in Norman Hartnell's spring colection recently. Hartnell makes a good many dresses for Queen Elizabeth and the little Princesses, and also designed the Duchess of Gloucester's trousseau.

The things noticed most among this collection of about 150 models were:

Zipp fasteners on everything, evening dresses, suits, negligees and blouses.

Thin wollen evening coats lavishly trimmed with beads.

Short loose little coats to match or tone with morning and afternoon dresses.

The predominating colors were blue, from palest sky to navy, and all different shades of purple—violet, lavender, cyclamen, petunia, cerise and pinkish purple, some of them rather ugly and trying to wear.

Nearly all the evening dresses glittered with either sequins or beads, and were mostly backless with narrow shoulder straps. Three models which caused a buzz of applause were "White Rose," a very simple evening gown with a full skirt, in white satin with huge white roses at the neckline "Operetta," also in white satin with broad bands of ruching over the full skirt which gave it a crinoling appearance, and "Eugenie," in pearl grew taffeta, with a looped skirt like a Winterhalter gown, worn with deep purple flowers and matching gloves.

Santa Claus Comes Late Here

Christmas didn't reach Louisiana's isolated Bayou du Large settlement until spring, but the eager, happy children shown crowded about the tree, above, in Houma, seemed to be enjoying the presents which Bishop James Craig Morris is handing out just as much as if Yuletide had come December 25. In fact Christmas comes in spring every year in Bayou du Large since menfolk of this English-Scotch community are out on their fur traplines in December when the rest of the world is celebrating.

Bargain Trips Appeal To Women

They Do Most Of The Traveling, Official Tells Club

MONTREAL (CP)—Women — mostly teachers and nurses — travel most on railways, A. A. Gardiner, Canadian National Railways, told the Westmount Women's Club here. Mr. Gardiner was quoting data received from railway men in Canada and the United States.

The element of romance in travel probably was responsible in part, and emancipation also was a factor. "Bargain" fares were a great appeal to women, indifferent when they were merely labeled "low fares." And women like all-expense fares, since they want to know just what a trip is going to cost.

Women show more practical sense than men in tipping—more fair play, the speaker said. They tip, he suggested, to insure promptitude or for service—and when a woman doesn't receive service, she doesn't tip. Women, too, are more given to buying transportation from advertising. Also, they seem to feel they will enjoy a trip in ratio to the number of questions they ask the railway people. A side trip included in a ticket has an irresistible appeal.

When the family is taking a trip, the wife makes 99 per cent of the decisions and does 70 to 75 per cent of the spending. In many cases, it is the girl who makes the inquiries about the honeymoon trip. The train staff always recognizes a honeymoon couple—because both are wearing new shoes.

Women have better travel sense when it comes to baggage—and their small overnight bags are a joy to the porters.

In one respect men are somewhat superior to women as travelers, said the speaker, referring to the feminine penchant for monopolizing all the dressing-room space and keeping it for a long period.

When a man makes a complaint, he says he is speaking for his wife; the woman "thinks you should know about this," but she does not want the offender to lose his job as a result.

Like men, women leave all sorts of things on trains — but never in the history of railroading has a compact been left behind.

Learn Social Behavior Early

OTTAWA—Elements of social behavior taught by simple suggestion in the nursery school of the Protestant Children's Village in Ottawa, first of its kind in Canada, form in the minds of its orphaned or under-privileged residents a foundation of independence, affability and resourcefulness.

Inaugurating this system of early social training later used in the mental development of the Dionne quintuplets, the nursery school was founded in 1935 under the guidance of Dr. W. E. Blatz, director of St. George's School, Toronto, and supervisor of the quints' education. A second school was opened last year in Winnipeg.

In advantageous surroundings the Protestant Children's Village, a large, bright, airy stone structure, sits on the brow of a hill facing the vast acreage of the Central Experimental Farm. A large outdoor playground and a variety of playthings allow each child a change of scenery and activity which lead to a harmonious atmosphere among the youngsters, who range from two to five years in age and are usually a dozen in number.

NO SET RULES

Playing and everyday routine are first steps in education to these children, whose term of residence ranges from five days to five years. They have no set rules, no definite instructions, and are kept away from possible disturbance from adult contact. "Keep busy" is the only command of the supervisor.

Heavy net curtains on the doors hide visitors from the child to guard against self-consciousness and upsets at playtime or meal time. Once weekly, parents or relatives appear as visitors.

Before lunch each youngster unrolls a rag rug on the floor, stretches out on it and listens to a phonograph record. Then rugs are rolled up, replaced on the shelves and the youngsters line up and march to the dining-room.

Orderliness is instilled in the young minds also. Each child has an emblem—a fruit, flower, animal or geometric figure—a miniature facsimile of which is pasted over his or her clothing cubicle in the cloakroom and cubbyhole for comb, wash cloth and towel in the downstairs and upstairs bathrooms.

Playthings must be returned to their proper places at the end of a playtime, and dishes are carried to the kitchen at the end of every meal by each child.

Miss Marguerite Nixon, superintendent, and Miss Mary Dale-Harris, director of the nursery school, oversee meals, helping the children to potatoes, beans, parsnips, sausages, bread, milk and caramel pudding, an average menu. No assistance is given. If a child balks at his meal he goes without and soon food-fussiness disappears.

WILL ROGER'S SON TO MARRY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Blake Rogers, 22, son of the late Will Rogers, actor-humorist, filed notice yesterday of intention to marry Marguerite Astrea Kemmler of Los Angeles.

The couple said the ceremony would take place March 26. Rogers lives at the Jalama Ranch near Lompoc, Calif.

SHOWER GIFTS ARE GENEROUS

One of the most successful linen showers in the history of St. Joseph's Hospital was held on Saturday, when generous friends of the institution contributed 1,135 articles, including seven pairs of heavy woolen blankets. In addition, $102 was received in cash, also three bolts of sheeting and two bolts of pillowslip tubing.

About 250 guests attended the affair, which was held in the nurses' home. Mrs. Alex. McDermott was the general convener and had artistically decorated the auditorium with great jars of plum blossom and other spring flowers.

Visitors on arrival were welcomed by the Rev. Mother Provincial and Sister Superior, assisted by Sisters of St. Joseph's, and Mesdames C. H. O'Halloran, G. F. Aylward, James Adam and J. H. Moore. The tea table, at which Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. F. M. MacPherson, Mrs. F. M. Bryant and Mrs. J. Villiers Fisher presided, was centred with an oblong basket filled with daffodils, tulips, iris and narcissi. Uniformed nurses served.

Mrs. Chas. E. Wilson convened the attractive musical program, to which vocal numbers were contributed by Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Miss Sheila Conway and Miss Jean Burnett, Messrs. Frank Ivings, Bryan Renwick and Philip Heal, accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Warn, who was presented with a corsage bouquet of violets.

News of Clubwomen

The Esquimalt Women's Institute will hold its fortnightly card party on Thursday evening at 8.15 at the Parish Hall.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. to the Navy League will be held in the rooms on Broad Street on Friday afternoon, March 25, at 3.

The monthly meeting of Sherwood Auxiliary of the W.M.S. was held in Belmont United Church schoolroom. Mrs. John Hall presided. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. W. J. Sargeant and Mrs. Bryce Wallace. The meeting was well attended and reports from the various secretaries received. Tea was served and a social hour enjoyed. Mrs. C. Simms and Mrs. J. M. Cooper were hostesses.

A successful entertainment under the auspices of the Cedar Hill P.-T.A. was held at St. Aidan's Hall. John Gow gave a Punch and Judy performance, with tricks and sleight-of-hand, Messrs. B. White and Lilley, comic songs and sketches; V. Willerton and A. Norsworthy, instrumental duets, and Evelyn Druce, pianoforte solos. On Friday, April 1, at St. Luke's Hall, the social committee has arranged a silver tea from 2.30 to 5 p.m.

The monthly meeting of the First United W.M.S. was held yesterday afternoon in the church hall, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew presiding. The meeting opened with a hymn, followed by the reports of the secretaries. Mrs. F. Calvert led the devotional service and gave a translation in Chinese of one of the Psalms, and also read a story on prayer by Stanley Jones. Notice was given of the Easter luncheon to be held April 13, at 1 in the church hall, preceded by a ceremonial service in the church at 12.45. Home helpers are especially invited. Four new members were welcomed. Mrs. Borup read a letter recently received from Dr. Jessie Carlton of Madras. Mrs. R. Craig read the quarterly treasurer's report, and Mrs. A. Chisholm led the dedicatory prayer. Mrs. D. McKillop, a former president of the society, now residing in the United States, spoke of her keen interest in the Victoria auxiliary. The meeting was closed with prayer.

Refunds Of Income Tax Were $969,425

Joint Auditing By Provincial and Dominion Staffs Is Suggested

The Rowell Commission discovered some pertinent facts about British Columbia's income tax yesterday from C. B. Peterson, provincial commissioner of income tax.

Out of $7,407,627 collected from incomes in 1937—that is, on 1936 earnings—76 per cent, or roughly $5,500,000 was paid by corporations. The other 24 per cent, about $2,000,000, was paid by individuals.

Approximately 92,000 individuals paid income tax in the province. Of these 41,850 earning below $1,200 a year paid an average tax of $2.25. The group earning between $1,200 and $2,500 a year, numbering 39,450, paid an average tax of $6.50.

About 55,000 persons whose wages were deducted of the weekly 1 per cent tax got refunds of their tax in full. These included half of 83,703 persons whose earnings were $1,200 or less and 25 per cent of the persons earning between $1,200 and $2,500.

Altogether the government refunded $969,425 of the money it collected by the weekly wage tax.

Chief Justice Rowell pointed out that the Dominion collected income tax from only 23,000 persons in British Columbia, while the province collected from 92,000. Mr. Peterson replied that the Dominion, with its exemptions, could collect very little from persons getting below $2,500.

In the provincial tax, however, 21.3 per cent was paid by people getting below $2,500, 36 per cent by those getting below $5,000, and 63.6 per cent by those getting less than $15,000.

BIG INCOMES

Twenty-eight persons pay tax on incomes of $50,000 a year and over in the province.

Mr. Peterson submitted a brief on the question of avoiding duplication in income tax collections, of possible unification in collection and similar economies.

He said unified collection would be very difficult because of the wide variation in exemptions allowed by the two governments, particularly on the corporation taxes.

Any comparison of the costs of collecting the Dominion and provincial levies as a percentage of the amounts collected was unfair, he said, because it cost more proportionately to collect small amounts.

"Because of the heavy dual tax in the higher brackets we've had to go down into the lower incomes to avoid having the tax hit twice in the same spots. This has meant the use of a more expensive collection machinery," he said.

"I don't see how we could hope to have the Dominion take over the collection of corporation taxes, we're so involved now with alternatives and exemptions," he said.

JOINT AUDITING

For years, he said, the province had advocated joining the Dominion on audit work for income tax. This, he believed, would eliminate a good deal of public objection to the dual collection. The provinces have 20 auditors and the Dominion the same. If they joined forces it would make things pleasanter for the business man and would increase the tax collections considerably. With his present staff he could cover the province only once in three years, he said.

Chairman Newton Rowell noted the complaint made by manufacturers of having to keep special clerks to fill out various government forms, adding: "The public should not be imposed on by an unnecessary set of auditors or of filling in extra forms if this could be simplified by co-operation."

"It seems ridiculous that the auditing staffs cannot get together," said Mr. Peterson. "The Dominion says it cannot because all the information it gets is confidential. But surely we're both after the same thing. Now, instead of one getting it we both get it. We could avoid lots of trouble by working together."

Mr. Peterson said every auditor earned 10 times his salary by improving collections, and with a bigger audit staff for both governments the revenue would be greater.

The income tax commissioner submitted tables showing the comparison of income taxes paid in British Columbia with other parts of Canada, the United Kingdom and California.

Jubilee Beds Near Capacity

Annex Vacated By City Patients Almost Full Again, Directors Told

More than 80 per cent of the available bed capacity of the Jubilee Hospital was occupied during the month of February, it was reported at the monthly meeting of the board of directors last week.

Rooms vacated by the recent removal of city patients from the annex were already being occupied again, the report said. The average number of patients per day was 323.

Commenting on the total of hospital days for the month, which reached 9,031, members of the board saw in the figure evidence of the approaching need for an increase in the hospital's accommodation.

The date of the annual Baccalaureate service was set for May 1, and that of the graduation exercises for May 5.

The finance committee reported progress was being made in the institution of a new accounting system, in accordance with the provincial government's new requirements, and that a close analysis of all costs was now possible.

Heavy work during the month were reported by both the radiological department and the laboratory.

Gifts of pyjamas for the T.B. pavilion from the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., and of linen for general use, and a special operating chair for the eye, ear, nose and throat operating-room from the women's auxiliary were acknowledged.

A vote of sympathy to the family of the late William Mable was passed, and his 33 years' service on the directorate was noted.

Edwin Tomlin presided in the absence of F. E. Winslow, the president.

Daylight Saving Only If B.C.-Wide

Otherwise Junior Chamber of Commerce Does Not Want It

Provided daylight saving can be engineered into a province-wide movement it will get the support of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce. Members at a general meeting last night did not think a plan of that sort would be at all feasible unless made to embrace the whole of British Columbia.

A suggestion from Jack Hartree that the Victoria Police Commission be approached on the possibility of having cars which are utilized for business purposes earmarked in some manner so that they would be exempt from general parking regulations was referred to the Junior Chamber traffic committee for action.

The majority of businessmen members displayed considerable interest in the suggestion. In outlining his plan, Mr. Hartree thought that some form of card or badge be used to identify cars used for business by downtown merchants. Cards would be secured at a fee to be set by the authorities on presentation of sworn affidavits to show that the car was being used for that purpose.

It was pointed out that the present hour time-limit for parking made matters extremely difficult for merchants who had to have cars handy for business.

AID BEAUX ARTS

A liberal supply of volunteers was secured to aid the Beaux Arts in staging a "country fair" on April 8 to secure funds to send that organization's drama group to Winnipeg to take part in the Dominion Drama Festival. The Beaux Arts won the British Columbia honors and will represent the province in the Manitoba city. George Cameron told the members that an attractive program is being lined up for the affair. It will be held either at the Crystal Garden or the Shrine Auditorium.

Ernest Harris, president, said plans for Victoria's midsummer celebrations this year. It is planned to hold a "queen" contest and to stage day and night parades. Plans were being made to arrange a Victoria caravan tour to the 1939 World's Fair in San Francisco. The chamber also hopes to send the Queen and her escorts to the fair next year.

Thirty of Victoria's finest gardens will be thrown open for public inspection during the Spring Garden Week to be held May 4 to 11, a letter from W. H. Warren, chairman of the show committee of the Victoria Horticultural Association, disclosed. A committee of the Junior Chamber will interview downtown merchants in an effort to induce them to arrange floral displays in their show windows during that week.

A committee was struck to compile a comprehensive report on the local group's views with regard to completing the Trans-Canada Highway. The Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce is getting the opinions of all its affiliate boards. Another committee will look into the work and functions of local youth movemovements and report back to the Dominion council. This survey is being conducted throughout Canada so that the Junior Chamber may decide what its national policy will be toward these movements.

Ed Glover, chairman of entertainment, was authorized to make arrangements for the next supper meeting to be held in the Hudson's Bay dining-room on April 8, when a speaker from U.B.C. will address the members on the university and its contribution to the province.

Betty Leaman Is Acclaimed Winner

Miss Betty Leaman won the annual Metropolitan Young People's oratorical contest held recently in the Sunday school hall of the Metropolitan Church.

Miss Leaman was victorious over a group of three contestants who were: Miss Margaret Gibson, Miss Laura Singleton and George Davis. The handsome Metropolitan Oratorical Trophy was presented to the winner by J. W. Jones, on behalf of the adjudicators.

Rev. A. E. Whitehouse spoke briefly, and complimented the contestants upon their excellent showing.

The president of the society, Miss Dorothy Howard, announced that an interesting program has been arranged for this evening's meeting at which Leonard Cannon will give a special message of great interest to all the members of the society.

Dominoes Open B.C. Title Bid

Will Battle Westerns Tonight in First Game of B.C. Hoop Final

British Columbia's feature basketball series, the provincial senior men's final, will be ushered in tonight at the High School gym. with the Victoria Dominoes and Vancouver Westerns the principals. A preliminary skirmish will get under way at 8, with the star attraction scheduled to commence at 9.15.

The referees for tonight will both be from the United States, Stan Riddle, Everett, and W. Jewell, Bellingham, being scheduled to work. Riddle officiated here in the Dominoes-Denver Safeways series, while Jewel will be making his first appearance on a local court.

The series is a best-of-five proposition. The second game will be played here tomorrow evening, with the clubs moving to Vancouver for the third engagement Friday night at the V.A.C. gym. A fourth game is slated for Saturday evening and a fifth, if necessary, the following Monday.

Manager Dave Nicol stated this morning that all members of the Dominoes are ready for the series. "The boys have enjoyed a good rest since playing in the Seattle tournament and have told me they feel fine, so we will have no excuses to offer," Nicol said. The local club is expected to start Chuck Chapman and Hank Rowe as guards, with Art Chapman at centre and Roy Taylor and Bert Davies in the forward positions. Busher Jackson and Austin Webster will be available for relief duty.

PUT OUT VARSITY

Fresh from their smashing victory over the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds in the mainland playoff, the Westerns have their eyes set on a Canadian title They figure Varsity, defending the national crown they won on their home floor last season, were their biggest stumbling block and are confident of coming out on top against the Dominoes.

Heading the Westerns' offensive power will be that clever court performer, Jimmy Bardsley. He is the centre of the club's attack and usually tops their scoring brigade. Along with him will be Art Willoughby, another sharpshooter of great ability. These two lads led Varsity to that surprising three-straight triumph over the Dominoes last season. Another scoring threat with the invaders is the veteran Wally Mayers, making one of the greatest comebacks in the history of British Columbia basketball.

At centre for Westerns will be Jo-Jo Ross, while other members of the squad are Dick Wright, Jack Gordon, Wyck Gray, Emmett Ritchie, Al Beaton and Neal. The starting line-up of Westerns is expected to be Bardsley, Willoughby, Ross, Mayers and Wright.

FIRING in National Hockey League playoffs gets under way tonight on two fronts. New York Rangers and Americans, who finished runners-up in their respective divisions, open their subway series, while Chicago Black Hawks invade Montreal to tangle with Les Canadiens. The winners will clash for the right to battle the victor in the Toronto-Boston playoff in the Stanley Cup final. The Leafs and Bruins will not get at each others' throats until Thursday night in Toronto.

The Rangers-Americans set-to should be a honey. The last time these two squads met in the playoffs the Rangers won a two-game total series 1 to 0. There still is little love lost between the two sides, and this season's meeting should produce all the action needed to whet the thirsts of those hungry Gotham fans. We like the Rangers despite the fact they will play tonight without the services of Art Coulter and Babe Pratt, two of their regular defencemen, out with injuries. Manager Lester Patrick will use his youngest son Murray and Larry Molyneaux, both members of the Philadelphia Ramblers, as replacements.

The Canadiens-Black Hawks series should see the Montreal Flying Frenchmen come through. The Hawks entered the playoffs with one of the poorest averages in games won and lost in the history of major hockey. It was only the dismal showing of Jack Adams's world champion Detroit Red Wings that allowed the Hawks to scrape through. The Canadiens are a good money club, and with the first game on their home ice Cecil Hart's charges must reign as favorites.

The Toronto-Boston series, if one goes by season play, should be a walk for the Bruins. Art Ross's boys have held the Indian sign on the Leafs all season, and should have no trouble in the league final. Ross looks to have one of the best-balanced clubs in the history of major hockey, and at this stage his Bruins rule top-heavy favorites to lift the Stanley Cup. So you see our choice for the three series is Rangers, Canadiens and Boston.

In our own backyard an important basketball final gets started tonight with the Dominoes and Vancouver Westerns locking horns in the opening tilt of the British Columbia senior men's championship. Jubilant over their defeat of the University of British Columbia in a five-game duel for the mainland honors, Westerns should be plenty hot in the provincial series.

Dominoes have enjoyed a good rest since their campaign against the Denver Safeways and in the A.A.U. tournament in Seattle, with all the boys ready to set a fast pace against the mainlanders. The Dominoes will be handicapped through having only seven men, but feel that will be plenty to carry them through. We are told Art Chapman will play in the series wearing glasses. The peepers may do a lot towards improving the shooting of the big centre. It has certainly been off color in recent games.

In going up against Westerns the Dominoes will renew rivalry with two players who have always been plenty troublesome in previous series. We refer to Jimmy Bardsley and Art Willoughby. Last season this pair led Varsity to that stunning three-game triumph over the Dominoes, and according to reports they are playing great ball for Westerns. They are a couple of aces that fit any team.

Remember when Syl Apps, high-scoring Toronto Leaf forward, became officially the best rookie of the 1936-37 National Hockey League season one year ago today with the announcement of the Canadian Press poll. The Calder Trophy, offered by President Frank Calder to the best newcomer each season, was awarded the 21-year-old Paris, Ont., playmaker.

STYMIE RULE IS ALTERED

U.S. Golf Association Revises Regulation For Clearer Interpretation

NEW YORK—In order to forestall doubt as to proper interpretation, the United States Golf Association yesterday announced a revision in the substitute stymie rule adopted for a one-year trial at the last annual meeting.

The change specifically requires that both balls be on the putting green (all ground except hazards within 20 yards of the hole) in order for a player to lift the nearer ball when it is within six inches of the hole or the other ball.

In a footnote to the rule governing marking and addition of scores in stroke play, the executive committee also has emphasized that responsibility for reporting the correct score for each hole rests with the player himself. The committee further ruled that, in connection with the footnote to its 14-club rule which permits replacement of an unfit club, a player may replace such a club with any other he sees fit, provided the number of clubs in his bag does not exceed 14.

JUNIOR HOCKEY

Soccer Players Go In Training

Seventeen Victoria Stars to Prepare For Match With Corinthians

Seventeen Victoria soccer players will go into a period of stiff training in preparation for the exhibition match here on May 4 against the touring Islington Corinthians. At a meeting of the Victoria section of the British Columbia Football Commission held last night the players were named to start the workouts.

The list follows: Wally Rowe, Jack Okell, George Leggett, Arnie Wilkinson, Glen and Cliff Robbins, McConnell, Roy Barnes, Bruce Robinson, Larry Kennedy, Gordie Bell, Jimmy Worswick, Alex Ross, Earle Barnswell, Noel Morgan, George Payne and Eddie Brown. Three of these players, Robinson, Kennedy and Ross are from the Wednesday League, and the remainder being members of first division clubs in the Victoria and District League.

Jimmy Hall has been selected as manager of the club with Jimmy Carmichael to act as trainer. It is planned to hold training sessions several times a week in order to have the boys in first-class condition by game time in May.

Advance notices of the Corinthians, an English amateur side making a world tour, indicate the squad is much stronger than was at first thought. They have played 51 games to date and have won 38, drawn 10 and lost 3.

In four games played in Calcutta, 190,000 fans paid to see them.

The amateurs will play three matches in British Columbia, games being scheduled at Nanaimo and Vancouver, in addition to the local appearance.

TRAIL MEETS FLIN FLON

B.C.-Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Champs Open Series Tomorrow

SASKATOON—Victors in a gruelling Saskatchewan senior hockey final series, Flin Flon Bombers entrained today for Calgary, where they will battle Trail Smoke Eaters for the right to continue in Allan Cup playdowns.

Seasoned in the tough Northern Saskatchwan Hockey League that sent North Battleford Beavers into the Canadian final last year, Flin Flon took the Saskatchewan title the hard way by beating Moose Jaw Millers 8 to 6 here last night.

The strong squad from the northern Manitoba mining town will meet the highly-touted Smoke Eaters tomorrow in the first game of a best of three series. The second game will be played in Saskatoon Saturday with the third, if necessary, also here Monday.

By their performance last night in the fourth game of the Saskatchewan finals—the best of three ended in a tie—Flin Flon showed they would be no push-overs for Trail, whose Allan Cup stock has bounded since they took the British Columbia with such ease and disposed of Calgary Rangers, Alberta titlists, with two overwhelming wins.

SCOTTISH CUP DRAW IS MADE

Second Division Club Assured For Final of Football Classic

GLASGOW—Appearance of a second division team in the final for the Scottish Football Cup was assured by the draw for the semi-finals made yesterday. St. Bernards will meet either East Fife or Raith Rovers at Tynecastle Park, Edinburgh, in one semi-final, the other, scheduled for Hampden Park, Glasgow, being between Rangers and the winner of the Kilmarnock-Ayr United fourth-round match.

St. Bernards, East Fife and Raith Rovers are leading teams in the second division. In their fourth-round clash, Saturday, East Fife and Raith played to a 2 to 2 draw on the former's ground. Kilmarnock and Ayr drew 1 to 1 at Kilmarnock. The matches will be replayed this week, semi-final games being set for April 2.

Of the six survivors, only Rangers, Kilmarnock and St. Bernards have won the cup. The famous Glasgow squad has been returned victor on 10 occasions, the Killes were successful in 1920 and 1929 while St. Bernards won in 1895.

Local Club Second In Field of 245

The Victoria Motorcycle Club has won the honors as the second best club on the North American continent, the latest publication of the Motorcyclist, official organ of the A.M.A., discloses. The magazine points out, however, that there was so little difference between first and second that it was only the fact that Madison, Wisconsin, club had a uniformed women's auxiliary that won for them the title of national champion motorcycle club for 1937.

About 245 clubs competed in the contest and with regard to the first 10 clubs the magazine says that officials could hardly place the clubs in their correct order as to the final standing of each of them as they were almost perfect and were almost tied as far as results were concerned.

ARENA PLANS ARE REVIVED

Architect Prepares New Set of Plans For Site On Douglas Street

The question of an arena in Victoria was revived at a luncheon held on Monday in the Union Club when a number of business men were called into conference to hear what had already been done in regard to preparing plans and of what was contemplated in the immediate future.

A local architect is preparing a new set of plans for a building which would fit on to the site on Douglas Street, which had been recommended by the Gyro Club when it was working on the idea last summer.

As soon as the architect has an estimate as to the cost of the building a special meeting of a committee of five will look them over and canvass the whole project thoroughly. Particular attention will be paid to methods of financing the undertaking.

In the general discussion a figure between $100,000 and $125,000 was mentioned as the probable cost of the arena.

New York—Mickey Farber, 136, New York, outpointed Victor Troise, 134, New York (8).

Major Hockey Squads In Playoffs Tonight

Rangers and Canadiens Favored

Selected to Whip Americans and Chicago in Preliminary Rounds

Big-time hockey comes into another Stanley Cup series tonight with a mighty, driving Boston club towering over the National League scene.

No team has dominated the play-off prospects so completely since Boston's Bruins of 1920-30, who had lost only five times in a 44-game schedule. This new edition of Bruins has lost 11 games in 48, but has shown clear superiority over its closest rivals. Around the league they call Bruins a "good play-off team"—which means they know how to take a lead and hold it.

Yet schedule showing don't mean a thing when play-offs come, as that Boston machine of eight years ago demonstrated vividly. Bruins marched into cup finals with Montreal Canadiens that year and were whipped twice straight in a best-of-three series That beating is always brought up when the talk gets round to play-off possibilities.

So the race was as uncertain as ever as Canadiens and Chicago prepared for the start of their best-of-three round at Montreal tonight and Americans and Rangers made ready for their all-New York round on the same basis. From those four will come a survivor to play Bruins or Leafs, who begin their best-of-five play-offs for the league championship Thursday at Toronto.

On the record again, Rangers and Canadiens should get by the first round and meet to declare a finalist. Rangers have lost only once to Americans and Canadiens have had the same record against Chicago.

RANGERS WEAKENED

Rangers, though, will begin without Captain Art Coulter and Babe Pratt, who will be replaced on the defence by young Larry Molyneaux and Muzz Patrick, son of Manager Lester Patrick. Coulter, hard-hitting Winnipegger, has been the driving power behind the blueshirts' brilliant attack and a great blocking back. Pratt, from Fort William, is one of the best young defencemen in the league. Both have leg injuries.

The nearest thing Amerks have to a casualty is Ching Johnson, Winnipeg veteran who will play despite a bruised elbow. The star-spangled brigade is in the midst of a streak that has brought only four defeats in 17 starts and a reward of second place.

Canadiens, who get an advantage of starting at home and finishing there if a third game is necessary, are nearly as badly used up as Rangers. They will play without Armand Mondou and Aurel Joliat but have the league's ablest stock of reserve forwards. Back on the defence, however, Babe Siebert will play with a shaky knee that let him return to the line-up only last week. Manager Cecil Hart will dress five Canadien defencemen against the possibility the Babe, most valuable player in the league last season, won't be able to go the distance.

Harold Jackson, just back with the club after an enforced absence through injury, will replace Carl Voss in the Chicago line-up. Voss is out with a knee hurt. Otherwise the Hawks are at full strength and playing the best hockey they know how for Bill Stewart, making good as a coach in his first year.

Vancouver Lions In Playoff Win

Smother Seattle 4 to 0 As Coast Hockey League Final Gets Under Way

VANCOUVER — After two hockey games, a protest and a league meeting of executives, the semi-final of the Coast Hockey League playoff between Portland Buckaroos and Vancouver Lions was history today—and so was the first game of the final between the protest-winning Lions and the Seattle Sea Hawks.

Up until game time last night, unfounded rumors circulated amongst the 6,000 fans at the east end forum that manager Bobby Rowe of the Bucks had changed his mind and the crowd might see the Portland squad skate on the ice. However, Seattle took the ice at the initial face-off and went down to a 4 to 0 defeat before the Leos, in the first game of the finals.

Rowe defaulted the semi-final series to Vancouver when league president Fred "Cyclone" Taylor and his executive upheld the Lions' protest against Portland using utility player Louis Holmes at centre instead of on defence in place of the injured "Chubby" Scott, Buckaroo rearguard.

The 4 to 0 score was not a fair indication of the play as Hawks pressed in all periods, and only the smart work of goalie Percy Jackson and his four stalwart defencemen thwarted the great Seattle rushes.

GETS TWO GOALS

Owen Lennon, left winger, and his linemate "Red" Conn led the scoring, Lennon banging in the first and last goals of the game, and Conn picking up two assists.

Vancouver capitalized on Seattle penalties. Their first three goals were scored while Hawks were shorthanded, and the fourth just seconds after they returned to full strength.

Art Merrill and Mory Rimstad combined for Leo's second goal, seven minutes through the final session. Merrill carried the disc up the left boards, passed to Rimstad to enable himself to get by the Hawk defence, then picked up Mory's relayed pass in front of the net to beat Emmett Venne from close in. Pete Leswick was serving a Seattle penalty at the time.

With one minute and five seconds to play and Hal Tabor serving out another Hawk penalty, "Moose" Pringle, huge Vancouver rearguard, parked himself in front of the Seattle net to receive a pass from Conn. Although Dave Downie attempted to check Pringle, the Moose let go with a backhander that completely fooled Venne, whose vision was partly blocked.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Vancouver, Lennon (Conn), 18.25. Penalties: Cox.

Second period — No scoring. Penalties: None.

Third period — 2, Vancouver, Merrill (Rimstad), 7.40; 3, Vancouver, Pringle (Conn), 18.55; 4, Vancouver, Lennon (O'Neill), 19.16. Penalties: Leswick, Hutton, Moffatt, Tabor.

Magellan's Pacific Voyage

While crossing the Pacific, a person's thoughts are likely to turn back to Ferdinand Magellan. Four hundred and eighteen years ago, that famous leader was in charge of three vessels which sailed across the mighty ocean.

Magellan

Magellan and his sailors were the first white men to cross the Pacific. They sailed under the Spanish flag. Most of the sailors were Spaniards, but Magellan, himself, was a Portuguese who had entered the service of the King of Spain.

Leaving Spain with five ships in the year 1519, Magellan went around the southern end of South America a year later. One of his ships was lost in a storm. Another deserted the fleet and turned back toward Spain. So there were only three vessels which set out across the Pacific.

Day after day, week after week, Magellan and his men sailed northwestward. They became short of food—little was left in their stores except biscuits. Before long, a prize was offered to any man who killed a rat for the dinner table.

Some of the sailors died of hunger, and those who lived were weak from lack of food. At last —more than three months after leaving South America—the fleet reached a small group of islands.

The islands were in the torrid zone, not a great distance north of the equator. The largest of them is known today as Guam.

Food was obtained from the islands—chiefly bananas. The natives were much surprised when the sailing ships arrived. They never had met white men before, and the vessels were the largest they had seen.

Magellan gave the name of "Ladrones" to the islands he had found. This name meant "Robbers" and was used because some of the natives boarded the ships and stole certain objects. Perhaps they did not know it was wrong to "help themselves."

Going on with his journey, Magellan reached the Philippine Islands. There he joined one native chief in a battle against another. He was killed in the battle —a sad ending to the life of a great and daring sea captain. Some of his men sailed across the Indian Ocean around southern Africa, then northward to Spain. In this way they finished the first voyage around the world.

HOROSCOPE

Wednesday, March 23, 1938

According to astrology this is an unimportant day in planetary direction. Emphasis should be placed upon careful attention to business and preparation for future exigencies.

There is an aspect promising to those who trade. The summer should be profitable, although there will be many commercial problems.

This is a lucky day for projecting new affairs of importance and should be favorable for interviews with bankers.

Astrologers foretell the formation of a financial League of Nations to stabilize and to control world finances. Money will be a subject widely discussed, despite uniform ignorance of the intricate science of finance.

Agricultural issues will be prominent. The food problem will continue acute in many nations and the cost of living remain high.

Women should be lucky under this direction of the stars, if they confine attention to distinctly feminine interests. House building and rearrangement are under promising planetary rule.

While this is not a configuration encouraging to romance, it seems to promise pleasant associations for young men and young women.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of unusual hazards and of dissension among business associates. Prudence should be exercised in financial matters.

Children born on this day may be fond of change and ambitious to travel. Subjects of this sign usually develop a wayward spirit and are often hard to direct.

Pierre Simon Laplace, noted French astronomer, was born on this day 1749. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Paul Leicester Ford, author, 1865.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—We were very much interested in your recent article telling the advantages and disadvantages of the different types of girls. Now will you please tell us something concerning the different types of men as husbands?

A GROUP OF GIRLS.

Answer: Well, of course there is no such thing as the perfect husband any more than there is any such animal as the perfect wife. So, whichever kind of man you marry, there will be times and seasons when you will wish you had picked out somebody else for a husband, with an entirely different set of characteristics. Each type of man has his faults and his virtues, his advantages and his drawbacks.

If, for example, you marry a homely man whose fact is just an assortment of odds and ends of features, and whose Adam's apple sticks in his throat and chokes him when he tries to say "darling," you won't have anything to look at or get a bit of romance, but you will never have to worry about keeping him from other women, and he will put you on a pedestal instead of expecting you to kowtow before him.

But if you marry a man who is as handsome as Robert Taylor and who makes love like Clark Gable on the screen, you will be puffed up with pride over having captured the prize of your circle and put something over on the other girls; but you will be filled with jealousy and spend the balance of your life protecting your treasure. And you will have to listen to people wonder why such a godling married a frump like you, and you will find out that great lovers are mighty likely to practice their talent on ladies other than their wives.

If you marry a poor boy you will have to work and scrimp, save and wear shabby clothes. But if you love him it is fun, and, if he has the right stuff in him, by the time you are middle-aged you will be living on Easy Street and riding around in a limousine.

If you marry a rich man just for his money you will have fine clothes and beautiful houses, and you can travel and do all the things you long to do, but they will be dust and ashes because you will be bored to death. If you marry a rich playboy you will have a high old time for a few years, and then the money will be gone and at middle age you will be down and out, with champagne tastes and not even a beer income on which to slake it.

If you marry a go-getter you will have only the fraction of a husband. All the balance of him will belong to his career. He won't have much time for you or his home, and you will never be the real heart interest to him that the stock market or his profession is; but you will have the pride and glory that a woman feels who is married to a successful man.

If you marry an easy-going, good-natured, ambitionless man, the chances are that you will always live from hand-to-mouth or you will have to go to work to support him, but you will have all of his society that you wish. And sometimes more.

If you marry a plain business man whose interest is in the grocery trade and who never reads anything but the comic strip and the political page and market news, and whose feet hurt him at night, you are pretty sure of three square meals a day and not having to keep an eye on his stenographer. But you may get awfully fed up with him and have to take your romance vicariously at the movies. But if you marry a dreamer and a poet or a perfectly divine dancer, you will find out that though he may feed your soul on white hyacinths he is short on beefsteaks, and that the night-lifers don't make stable home companions.

If you marry a doctor or a lawyer you will die of curiosity about what ails Mrs. Smith and the particulars of the Jones' divorce. If you marry a preacher all the sisters in the church will criticize everything you do and wear. If you marry an actor you will get green-eyed over ever scene in which he kisses the heroine. And so on and so forth. So when you marry you literally pay your money and take your choice.

DEAR MISS DIX—What is a Prince Charming? Are they born or made? Do they stay that way forever and ever?

MERT.

Answer: A Prince Charming is a mythical lover of whom every girl dreams and no girls finds, and he never survives the wedding day.

Identification Is Questioned

George Kitchener Asks Expert's Opinion on Handwriting on Envelope

A remand until tomorrow to call two defence witnesses secure advice of a handwriting expert was granted George Kitchener, charged in the City Police Court this morning with breaking and entering Peacock's Grocery, Finlayson Avenue, last September.

The hearing on this second charge against Kitchener opened this morning when two prosecution witnesses were heard. Yesterday he pleaded guilty to a charge of having possession of a suit stolen from K. C. McCannel.

Evidence of the robbery of the grocery was given by Mrs. Martha H. Peacock. She identified an envelope containing $2.84 worth of two and three cent stamps which was taken in the robbery, and which was found on the accused when he was arrested by Detectives W. Caldwell and P. W. Richards and Constable Harry Douglas of the Oak Bay police.

The envelope was identified by the word "bills" which Mrs. Peacock said she had written on it. Kitchener questioned this identity and had Mrs. Peacock write the word on a separate sheet of paper which will be shown a handwriting expert for comparison.

Mrs. Peacock testified between $25 and $30 worth of cigarettes and some cash were taken when the store was entered.

Kitchener said he wished to call in his defence a girl whom he had seen on the night of the robbery and also the man who sold Mrs. Peacock the stamps.

Time Ruling On Wage Act

VANCOUVER (CP) — Police Magistrate G. R. McQueen in a written judgment today stated there is no clause in the British Columbia Minimum Wage Act to prevent an employer from contracting with an employee to pay him the minmium wage, such payment to be due at a specified time in the future.

The magistrate, in a judgment which legal circles, said might necessitate an amendment to the act, said it was his opinion part of the minimum wage could be paid at regular intervals and the balance at the end of the specified period, ranging from one hour to one year.

The judgment, however, convicted Spiro Panassus, cafe operator, of violating the act, on grounds he had no contract specifying the time of payment with an employee. Panassus was given suspended sentence and ordered to pay the balance due the employee.

Payments to Be $25 Each Month

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—H. E. McAlpine, former Stratford business man, pleaded guilty today to charges laid under the Bankruptcy Act and was granted suspended sentence for three years on condition he makes restitution of $1,100 at the rate of not less than $25 a month.

McAlpine was arrested in Vancouver a few weeks ago. He told Magistrate J. A. Makins he planned to return to Vancouver, where he had started a business. He was charged with having removed part of his property here after being declared bankrupt.

Two-day Youth Parley Closes

Spirit of Co-operation Marks Well-attended Sessions at Y.W.C.A.

An all-inclusive Victoria Youth Conference came to a close Sunday after a successful two-day session at the Y.W.C.A.

About 40 delegates from local religious, cultural, political and recreational groups, together with a few outside representatives, were present at the opening sessions Saturday afternoon and were later divided into five committees to discuss a wide variety of youth problems.

The outstanding characteristic of the session was the spirit of co-operation and desire by the many delegates for collective understanding of the common problems confronting youth.

At yesterday's session the case for Japan in the present Oriental conflict was presented by a young Japanese from Vancouver.

Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, executive member of the League of Nations Society, made the opening address Saturday afternoon. His subject was "The International Outlook for Youth Today." The delegates on Sunday attended service at the Metropolitan United Church. In the evening the reports of the commissions were delivered and a discussion of resolutions took place.

ASSIZE CASE NEARING END

Complete Taking of Evidence in Manslaughter Trial of George Bone

Taking of evidence in the manslaughter trial of George L. Bone, charged as the result of an automobile mishap in which Mrs. Nellie E. Willerton sustained fatal injuries near the intersection of Pandora and Quadra Streets on December 15 last, was completed before Mr. Justice Robertson in Assize court here this morning.

A verdict was expected late this afternoon or evening following addresses of Carew Martin, crown counsel, and W. H. Davey, appearing for the defence.

The accused took the stand late this morning as the case for the defence drew to a close. He testified his car, a cabriolet, had a broken front spring on the afternoon of the mishap. He had driven down Pandora Avenue westward at between 25 and 30 miles an hour and had slowed down to 15 to cross the car tracks as he turned into Quadra Street, going south towards a repair shop. After making the turn he had accelerated the speed of his car. Two windshield wipers were in use on his car, but side-windows were covered with rain and visibility was poor, except through the cleared spaces.

SPEED 25 MILES AN HOUR

He estimated he had gone about 70 feet south on Quadra Street when he struck Mrs. Willerton, whom he had not seen until the moment of impact. At that time he was traveling about 25 miles an hour, he said. He had stopped his car within a distance of one and one-half times its length and jumped out. Bone testified he had called to an attendant in McGavin's Service Station to call the police and had gone to the woman, who was lying just over the sidewalk line in the service station yard. When she had been struck she had been thrown forward and to the right, landing on her left forearm and head and somersaulting on to the driveway, he said.

Mr. Bone declared previous evidence to the effect that he had been traveling 50 miles an hour down Pandora Avenue before making the turn was ridiculous. His car was equipped with low pressure ballon tires which squealed at a rate of 25 or 30 miles an hour. They had not squealed as he made the turn, he said.

The accused said he had failed to see the woman because he was looking straight ahead.

JAY-WALKING THEORY

In reply to cross-examination by Carew Martin, the accused reaffirmed his speed at the time of the accident at 25 miles an hour. He suggested Mrs. Willerton had been jay-walking. His car window had been lowered to make the signal on Pandora Avenue and raised immediately after to keep out the heavy rain, he said. Mrs. Willerton would have been about five feet out from the curb when he struck her, he stated in reply to question.

Constable W. C. Murray, Provincial Police, testified to the removal of the front spring from the automobile yesterday and identified it as an exhibit in the case. Constable W. Bourque, also of the Provincial Police, gave evidence on events at the scene of the accident a few minutes after it had occurred. There were no skid marks, he said.

Arthur Lee, chairman of the property committee of the Metropolitan Church, stated Mrs. Willerton had been on her way to a church meeting in the schoolroom behind the church on the afternoon in question.

Horace Gladding gave expert evidence on the effect of a broken spring on a car and the difficulties a driver would experience if proceeding at a rate of 30 miles an hour or over.

A. E. Bayliss gave evidence on tests he had made on the corner. He stated he had found difficulty in making the sharp turn at 30 miles an hour and had been unable to try to round the corner when he had made the same test at 50 miles an hour.

CERTIFIED TRANSCRIPTS

T. H. Bamford certified certain statements by O. Hudson, a Crown witness, produced in transcript form from the lower court.

Before adjournment yesterday afternoon the judge and jury visited the scene of the accident at Pandora Avenue and Quadra Street after seeing the Bone car at city police headquarters.

Cross-examination of Orlan V. Hudson was resumed after the luncheon recess by H. W. Davey, defence counsel. Hudson estimated the speed of the Bone car when he saw it just before the accident at 50 miles an hour.

William Trace said he was driving east on Pandora Avenue and heard the collision as the car struck Mrs. Willerton. As he turned he said he saw Mrs. Willerton thrown four and a half feet from the ground. At the same instant he noticed the Bone car and swore it was stopped.

No Deductions On Dominion Cheques

Income Tax Head Says Ottawa Refuses to Deduct Wage Tax On B.C. Employees

Dominion Government employees are the only wage-earners in British Columbia from whom the provincial 1 per cent wage tax is not deducted, C. B. Peterson, provincial income tax commissioner, told the Rowell Commission this morning.

They pay their income tax at the end of the year.

The failure of the Dominion Government to deduct the tax from wage cheques places the provincial department in an embarrassing position and makes collections difficult, Mr. Peterson said.

"They are the only employees in the province from whom deductions are not made," he said, "and we don't get the employer salary returns promptly. We have to write for them repeatedly."

Chairman Rowell said there was no doubt the province should have every co-operation from the Dominion in that regard.

"There is no co-operation between the Dominion and provincial tax organizations—that is, on their part," replied Mr. Peterson. He added that the province did go as far as supplying the Dominion with various lists on tax matters, such as probate lists, but received nothing from the Dominion officials.

Discussing the question of whether income taxes paid to one government should be deducted from the taxable income assessed by the other Mr. Peterson said that if anyone was to allow such deductions it should be the Dominion because the province had prior rights in the income tax field.

FIRST UNITED Y.P.S.

Miss Mary Loudoun, president of the society, opened the program with a short business period. The devotional exercises were in charge of Miss Emily Durkin, assisted by Miss Ruth Barclay at the piano. The entertainment was brought to a close with the Mizpah Benediction, pronounced by Rev. J. E. Bell.

CREDIT RATED OF 50,000,000

Russel T. Elsom Tells of Work of 1,300 Bureaus in North America

Credit reporting had advanced to such a stage that now throughout North America there were 1,300 bureaus rating 50,000,000 customers for 160,000 concerns, Russel T. Elsom, manager of the Associated Credit Bureaus of the Pacific Northwest, told the Credit Granters' Association at its meeting in Spencer's dining-room this afternoon.

Mr. Elsom, who is on an inspection tour of the bureaus in the Pacific Northwest, said there were 113 bureaus in this district who rated over 1,500,000 people for 10,000 concerns.

He praised the Victoria bureau highly and said that it was regarded as one of the brightest spots in credit reporting throughout the Northwest.

"I am supposed to adjust complaints," Mr. Elsom said. "And I usually receive plenty of them, but I think you should know I have not received a single complaint here."

Credit associations throughout North America were bound together by mutual co-operation, the speaker said. He told the story of a San Francisco man who was surprised to find when he moved to New York a number of letters from firms inviting him to make use of their credit facilities. He did not realize that when a man moved his credit card followed him, the speaker said.

Mr. Elsom urged all members of the association to make full use of the bureau. He drew attention to the fact that the petroleum institute rejected 40 per cent of its applicants for credit. The drygoods association, which was more lenient and was better able to follow up poor credit, found one out of 10 people dangerous credit risks.

Harry B. Dawson, secretary of the Victoria Credit Granters, introduced the speaker. L. E. Evenden, president, was in the chair.

Student Leader

JOHN MEREDITH

At the recent annual election, John Meredith was elected president of the Students' Council of Victoria College. His election to the office of president climaxes an active year, during which he was vice-president of the International Relations Society, a member of the executive of the Literary Arts Society and one of the students chosen to represent the college at the International Relations Conference to be held at Portland, Ore., this week. Meredith will fill the office vacated by the retiring president of the Alma Mater Society, William Petrie.

OVERLAPPING SEEN SMALL

Harry M. Cassidy, director of social welfare for the province, and George J. Alexander, assistant commissioner of fisheries, appeared before the Rowell commission this morning to give evidence regarding possible elimination of duplication in provincial and federal services. They were the second in a list of deputy ministers called by the commission for information of this sort.

Both testified that there was little overlapping of services.

Dr. Cassidy proposed, however, that a Dominion welfare bureau might be established to direct work now done by five different branches in Ottawa and to give leadership to the provinces in their welfare work. He suggested the Dominion deal with the transient problem and settle the responsibility of caring for welfare matters. Uniformity of standards in service was desirable, such as in tuberculosis work where the Indians, under Dominion control were a problem. Gaps in the service offered by the different governments could be overcome by consultation between officials.

Mr. Alexander was questioned whether there would be any obstacle to the Dominion licensing fish plants and replied that the fees from plant licenses were regarded as revenue which the province would not wish to surrender.

GROUP STUDIES "OLIVER TWIST"

Dickens Book Banned in Quebec Reviewed at Fellowship Meeting

Speaking before a large audience of his fellow members, Captain Wilfred Ord, honorary president of the Victoria Dickens Fellowship, last night gave a history and review of the author's "Oliver Twist," which was first published 100 years ago this year and is the official study book for Dickens groups this season.

This book has been acknowledged as the first novel Dickens wrote and Captain Ord expressed the opinion that it was written for a strong moral purpose and also as a tribute to the memory of Mary Hogarth. This was shown, he said, by Dickens' characterization of Rose Maylie in the story being drawn directly from her.

At the time he wrote "Oliver Twist" Dickens was an eager young reformer just beginning to draw the public's attention to some of the deplorable conditions then existing in England. He dived into the dark haunts of London to obtain material for the book and depicted what he saw there with such truth and vividness that he opened the eyes of the city guardians to the dens of thieves preying upon the city. And, though it was not realized at that time, by writing his "Oliver Twist" and by the many other books to follow, Dickens was destined to become that rarest of all things, a prophet honored in his own country.

Closing his address with a brief summary of Forster's remarks on the creation of "Oliver Twist" in his "Life of Dickens," Captain Ord read several scenes from the actual book.

BANNED IN QUEBEC

An item of interest to Dickensians on the subject of the padlock law in the province of Quebec, contained in a clipping from a recent newspaper, was submitted by H. L. Fensham. It quoted R. L. Calder, K.C., as declaring that under the workings of the act Charles Dicken's "Oliver Twist" had been confiscated as Communist propaganda, and the circulation of the Bible had been forbidden in Quebec City.

Plans were discussed to form a larger dramatic group among the members of the local fellowship to enact more Dickens plays, with the result it was decided to put these plans into force for the autumn series of meetings. A. W. Arnup was again appointed the club's representative on the advisory board of the Provincial Drama Association.

A short sketch from "Martin Chuzzlewit" acted by Mrs. G. R. Thomson in the part of Sairey Gamp, and Mrs. M. Chapple as Betsey Prigg, and some jingles from "Oliver Twist" written by G. R. Thompson, completed the program. Two new members, Miss C. M. Arnup and R. W. Corner, were enrolled at the meeting which was presided over by the president, H. L. Fensham.

Members of the Board of Debenture Retirement Fund Trustees, appointed under the Fortin refunding scheme, met for the third time in Mayor Andrew McGavin's office this morning, but adjourned their discussions without any public statement again today. It was understood E. W. McMullen, appointee of the provincial government on the board, would not be available for further meetings for some time. He expects to leave Victoria for Arizona tomorrow.

Strike Slows Up Fruit Shipments

California fruit and vegetable shipments to British Columbia are moving slowly on account of strike conditions, wholesale row dealers reported this morning. Consignments are coming by rail. If the strike continues wholesale prices may increase possibly 10 per cent.

California asparagus is moving slowly due to the unsettled weather in the "sunshine" state. A shipment of Ashcroft potatoes arrived today and a consignment of Okanagan apples is expected tomorrow. Local white cabbage is reported to be almost cleaned out. A small shipment of California celery is expected toward the end of the week. A consignment of Mexican green peas tomorrow will reduce Victoria wholesale prices. Australian onions are moving well.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street," which was such a favorite on the stage in London and New York, is now the screen attraction at the Columbia Theatre. It is one of the most delightful pictures to come out of Hollywood and depicts the lives of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning.

The locale, of course, is London—in Wimpole Street, which still exists in the heart of the great metropolis. Many of the scenes were actually taken there.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Samuel Goldwyn evidently believed that Holywood history repeats itself, for he signed Tim Holt, son of Jack Holt, for an important role in "Stella Dallas," which is now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre, with Barbara Stanwyck and John Boles in starring roles under King Vidor's direction.

PLAZA THEATRE

Walter Connolly, who landed so thoroughly in the middle in "Libeled Lady," leaps even deeper into the centre of a mad Manhattan mix-up in the role for which he was cast by David O. Selznick, that of Oliver Stone, the managing editor, in the technicolor production "Nothing Sacred," at the Plaza Theatre.

GAY COMEDY AT DOMINION

"Swing Your Lady" With Louise Fazenda and Other Stars Opens Today

Hillbilly hilarity is the dominant note of "Swing Your Lady," a gay comedy from Warner Brothers' studios, which had its premiere at the Dominion Theatre this afternoon.

There is a great deal of music in this entertaining picture. Four of the songs were written by that clever team Jerom and Scholl. Several dances by Bobby Connelly, who was once Ziegfeld's terpsichorean maestha, are also shown. One dance especially is picturesque in the extreme. It is called "The mountain swingaroo."

In the cast are Humphrey Bogart, Nat Pendleton, Louise Fazenda, the Weaver Brothers and Elviry, Frank McHugh, Allen Jenkins, Hugh O'Connell and Sammy White.

Excellent Casts For Grand Operas

Mascagni in his score of "Cavalleria Rusticana" has assigned one of the best-known airs in the opera, "Oh Gentle Flower of Gold," to the role of "Lola." This melody "Lola" sings as she makes her first entrance. It is a carefree love song and portrays at once her coquettish nature.

When this opera is presented with Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" at the Empire Theatre next Friday and Saturday, the part of "Lola" will be sung by Rita Shearing, one of the promising young sopranos of the Victoria Grand Opera Association. Other principal parts in "Cavalleria" will be sung by Thelma Johns, Elbert Leroy Bellows (guest artist), Vivian McCahill and Arthur Jackman. The principal artists in Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" will include Peggy Moore, Elbert Leroy Bellows, Fraser Lister, David Oldham and Norman Tyrrell. There will be a large chorus and augmented orchestra.

Fairy Folk To Be Seen Here

Every ardent movie fan who likes to keep pace with the times will look forward expectantly to the opening performance of the RKO Radio's Technicolor picture, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," which comes on Saturday to the Capitol Theatre. This happens to be the first time that a Walt Disney film has stepped out of the two-reeler class into full feature length! The story subject is chosen from the world-famous Grimms' folk tales, and concerns the feud between the wicked queen and Princess "Snow White."

"Sally, Irene, Mary" To Open Tomorrow

Alice Faye and Tony Martin sing the tuneful songs, as only they know how, in "Sally, Irene and Mary," new musical hit, which will open tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre.

With Fred Allen, of radio's "Town Hall Tonight" fame, they top the great cast of Darryl F. Zanuck's latest 20th Century-Fox success.

The featured cast includes Jimmy Durante, Gregory Ratoff, Joan Davis, Marjorie Weaver, Louise Hovick, Barnett Parker and J. Edward Bromberg.

"Boy of Streets" To Open Tomorrow

From out of the sordid depths of the great city slums rises a triumphant story of youth and honor and a boy's fight to find himself. It is Monogram's splendid "Boy of the Streets," which will open tomorrow at the Atlas Theatre, and its star is Jackie Cooper, whose moving characterization of Chuck, the tenement tough, definitely establishes him as an adult star.

"Boy of the Streets" is a story of the children who grow up in the sombre shadows of the tenements. The camera focuses on Chuck, a success worshipper, leader of a gang of young hoodlums.

Alaska Salmon Pack Is Good

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frank Bell, United States fisheries commissioner, reported a 1937 Alaskan salmon pack of 6,669,665 cases, third largest in the history of the industry.

He said the packs in 1936 and 1934 were larger—8,437,603 and 7,481,830 cases respectively.

The 1937 pack indicates, Bell said, that the Alaskan salmon fisheries were in a "highly productive phase of development."

Last year's production was composed of five species of salmon: 137,317 cases of cohoes; 730,832 cases of chums; 3,625,379 cases of pinks; 69,468 cases of kings and 2,106,660 cases of reds.

Hawaii Awaits "Enemy" Attack

Huge Navy Planes in Air and Destroyers Patrol Seas Off Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP)—Honolulu's civilians worked and played as usual today, but over 22,000 soldiers and sailors awaited with wartime anxiety the appearance of an "enemy" fleet.

Under simulated conditions that included even firearms on army post school buses, the service arms prepared to defend the staunchly fortified Island of Oahu or other vulnerable land from an enemy "blue" fleet, representing a government whose relations with the United States were "strained" last week.

The attacking force actually is a part of the United States fleet which left California last week on the most extensive and most secret Pacific manoeuvres yet undertaken.

Already huge naval planes—presumably from the "blue" fleet—have been reported 1,000 miles from Honolulu. Sleek, grey destroyers patrol waters outside Pearl Harbor, watching for the enemy.

Twenty thousand troops are deployed about the Island of Oahu, flanked with artillery and mobile equipment. They have been carrying out minor manoeuvres since Thursday.

Submarine crews wait at their posts at the naval base.

Three Boys Arrested For Greasing Rails

TORONTO (CP) — Three 15-year-old boys were arrested by Canadian National Railway detectives on charges of greasing the rails on a main line in suburban Scarboro. The detectives found the boys in hiding under a bridge, laughing merrily as heavy freight trains tried vainly to make a grade.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER (CP) — The James Nourse Ltd. steamship Johilla has arrived in port to load for the United Kingdom, under one voyage charter to Canadian Transport Company.

Her regular run is between the West Indies and Calcutta.

The old five-masted sailing ship Forest Pride was towed into port here Sunday. The Forest Pride, an American sailing ship built in Washington in 1919, has been bought by Gibson Brothers Ltd., to be added to their fleet of barges on the British Columbia coast.

She will be registered in Canada, her masts will become derrick stumps and she will tow pulp, lumber and general cargo.

Around the Docks

The ocean docks were busy today as two freighters loaded for the United Kingdom; a third arrived with cargo from the Orient and a fourth was expected overnight from the British Isles.

The King Idwal, of British registry, in command of Capt. Edward W. Lewis, was taking 750,000 feet today, and will get away tomorrow for Port Alberni.

The Queen Adelaide, also British, was loading 350,000 feet, and expected to sail early this evening for Vancouver, where she will complete for Leith, Grangemouth and London.

Inbound from ports in China and Japan, the Blue Funnel liner Tyndareus reached the Rithet piers early this afternoon, and after putting down local cargo and mails, proceeded to Vancouver.

Ms. Pacific President, from England and Scotland, will arrive early tomorrow morning. She left San Francisco at 9 Sunday evening.

King Brothers also expect the British freighter Huncliffe at Ogden Point tomorrow morning to load for the United Kingdom.

Overhaul to the Dominion Government's hydrographic survey steamer Wm. J. Stewart will be completed tomorrow and she will be floated off the ways at the Bay Street plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot to make way for H.M.C.S. Armentieres.

Unloading of the cargo from the water-soaked holds of the Beulah is proceeding at Ogden Point. Drums of gasoline and oil and cases of canned salmon were this morning brought into the inner harbor on barges, pushed by the tug Superior. From here the freight will be sent to Seattle and then overland to San Francisco, where it will be put aboard a ship for the South Sea Islands.

Capt. Charles Radford, master of the freighter Queen Adelaide, now loading at Ogden Point, comes from a seafaring family. His father was a sea captain for 45 years. His younger brother, Capt. Eric Radford, served with the Blue Funnel fleet and some years ago was in service to this port on the Ixion.

The Queen Adelaide is a comparatively new ship. She was launched 18 months ago and has made two voyages between England and Australia and on her present trip has come from the Philippine Islands and San Francisco. She expects to arrive in England early in May.

Capt. Radford, who was last here 10 years ago on the Queen Olga, has a five-year-old daughter called Rita. She recently made a trip with her father to Australia and when she was only three took voyages with him to the Baltic. She lives with her mother in Bristol and is anxiously awaiting the arrival of her daddy, whom she has not seen for seven months.

The Queen Adelaide is named for a queen of Italy and daughter of Rudolph II of Burgundy. She reigned prior to 1000. Her picture hangs in the ship's dining saloon.

Wheat Futures Still Receding

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg wheat futures today continued declines started Saturday, dropping a maximum of 2⅛ cents in quiet trading, October to a new seasonal low. At the final bell values were 1⅞ to ⅞ lower, May $1.15¾, July 1.07⅛ and October 90⅛ cents.

Combination of bearish influences, lead by sharp declines at Liverpool, turned buyers out of the pit. Chicago weakened in late stages while stocks were generally lower.

Small export demand for North American wheats combined with pressure of Australian wheat at Liverpool to present the disappointing wheat picture.

Light intermarket trade supported October future which eased more than a cent. The slow manner of dealing extended into the cash wheat pit and coarse grain sections. Cash prices managed to remain unchanged due to scarcity of offerings.

Liverpool fell to low records, 1⅛ to ½d under yesterday's close. Buenos Aires was fractionally lower.

Oats purchased were credited for western relief needs with volume small. Other coarse grains followed wheat.

Westinghouse Loses Over Four Points

NEW YORK (AP)—A break of more than four points in Westinghouse helped unsettle an already shaky stock market today and leading issues in virtually all departments wilted.

The flop in the "blue chip" electrical equipment followed estimates of a sharp decline in earnings, not only for this company but for those in other lines, and served to accentuate Wall Street's gloom over the profits outlook for nearby months.

On top of this, those who had been holding out high hopes for tax revision were chilled when Under-secretary of the Treasury Roswell Magill, testifying before the Senate finance committee, voiced administrative disapproval of most tax changes which had been proposed.

Steels, motors, aircrafts, rubbers, mail orders, farm implements, rails, oils and specialties were off 1 to 3 and isolated issues lost more. There were a number of new lows for the past two years or longer.

Volume stepped up a bit in late trading, with transfers approximating 700,000 shares.

A recovery in the bond market lost headway but many issues retained advances ranging to more than a point.
